WESTMOOR WOES

Water Leak Is on Again

By DON MILLER

Westmoor High School's on-again, off-again water leak is apparently on again, trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District learned to their dismay Monday night.

Principal Glenn South reported that since the end of January, water has been seeping from somewhere along the hot water line at a fluctuating rate, ranging from 10 to 40 gallons an hour.

JUHS Asked To Consider Labor Policy

A union representative asked Monday night that the Jefferson Union High School District consider adopting an agreement that would be the next thing to a union contract.

The request was made by Frank Gillis, business representative of Local 377 of the American Federation of State and County Municipal Employees.

Gillis proposed to the district's trustees that the district adopt a policy governing employment.

OCEAN CLAIMS COSTLY PIPE

Pacifica Loses Outfall Line

By LOIS McNALLY

Pacifica has lost its Sharp Park ocean outfall line, the City Council learned this week.

Mayor Harold Feyge estimated that its replacement or construction of substitute facilities at the sewage treatment plant could cost taxpayers close to $500,000.

A scuba diver making an inspection late last month discovered the 600-foot steel end section of the outfall line had broken off and was lying three feet down, buried in, and filled with sand.

With the broken line unusable, the sewage is being bypassed into the old Sharp Park outfall line. This line, however, is not considered long enough to discharge the effluent without contaminating beaches.

City Engineer Al Roberts reported that the rate of chlorine dosage has been increased to reduce any health hazards.

The now-missing outfall line was completed in 1962 as part of a $1-million sewer project, financed by a bond issue.

Two treatment plants and outfall lines were built — one at Sharp Park and the other at Linda Mar.

A report from Roberts, to be presented to the City Council tonight, says that the first difficulty with the line occurred January 27 when the line became obstructed and sewage backed up to within four inches of the contact chamber.

Although the obstruction cleared itself, the pipe was again obstructed on the following two days and on January 29, caused the contact chamber and clarifier tanks to overflow. Crews quickly constructed a bypass to the old abandoned outfall line.

Divers then were hired to inspect the underwater lines but for several days were unsuccessful because of heavy surf obscuring their visibility.

February 7, the scuba diver made a partially successful dive and discovered the break at the end of the cast iron section of pipe that is supported by piles.

Because of the rough surf and turbulent sand movement, divers did not find the missing piece until February 24.

In his report to the council, Roberts urges that a consulting engineer be hired to advise the city on whether to try to reconstruct the line or to build substitute onshore treatment facilities.

Reaction Is Mixed About Erosion Plan

Feyge Disagrees With Firm's Proposal

A difference of opinion arose this week among Pacifica officials on how to deal with the city's most critical problem: erosion of its coastline.

Following a public meeting with a firm of Santa Cruz erosion engineers, Councilman George Mason said he hoped to get council approval for further study of their proposed anti-erosion plan—called a groin system.

Mason said he hoped the council would take a field trip to Capitola next Wednesday where such an erosion control system is in effect.

The Santa Cruz firm asked that it be employed to conduct a preliminary survey of Pacifica's coastal problems so that the city would have some proposals for the U. S. Corps of Engineers at a public hearing in Pacifica next month.

Mayor Harold Feyge, who has long been concerned with Pacifica's erosion problem and has pushed for federal aid, did not attend last Wednesday's meeting.

He said later he did not think it would help the city to make recommendations to the army engineers prior to their survey.

By congressional authorization, the army engineers will conduct a three-year $54,000 survey of Pacifica's coastline erosion and later would likely undertake the remedial work.

The Santa Cruz engineers, Bowman and Williams, however, proposed that for immediate emergency control, a partial groin system at a cost of approximately $27,000 be built to protect 11 Esplanade (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

New Postal Unit Slated

Bids for the operation and servicing of a store-type post office station in the area of St. Francis Boulevard and Southgate Avenue have been called for by Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy.

The facility is needed to service residents of the St. Francis Heights and Westlake Knolls areas, Murphy said.

Bids will be accepted in the postmaster's office at 31 Bepler Street until 9 a.m. Monday, March 23. They will be opened at 9:30 a.m.

N. COUNTY CITIES

Air Center Liaison Assured

NORTH COUNTY city officials received assurances last week that they would not be left out of plans for a huge supersonic jet and air cargo center being planned around the International Airport in the next few years.

The assurances came at a meeting of the North County Council of Cities in Millbrae from Warren T. Lindquist, president of the Pacific Air Commerce Center Corporation and business associate of one of the principal backers of the airport project, New York banker David Rockefeller.

Also appearing at the meeting to help Lindquist in his presentation to the council was William F. Morton, vice president and general manager of the Crocker Land Company and chairman of Pacific Air Commerce's executive committee.

SCHOOL PROPOSAL

Unification Gets Back Into Gear

North County School unification, bogged down in recent weeks in a swamp of controversy and disagreement, finally got back into gear last Thursday night at an augmented session of the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization in Westmoor High School.

The group approved three key administrative provisions for a unified district after previously having sat through an entire session without reaching a vote on the provisions. The approvals are tentative.

The group also called a new public hearing April 16 in the Little Theatre of Westmoor.

A previous public hearing on the county committee's proposal to unify five North County school districts within the area comprised by the Jefferson High School District had been ruled illegal.

The district attorney's office ruled that the hearing should have included the administrative provisions the committee voted on Thursday night.

The vote came after two more hours of discussion on the merits of the committee's unification plan.

James Cooper, a member of the high school board, urged that the committee cease haggling and vote on the provisions and then permit the public to decide whether the unification plan and the provisions should be adopted.

Passed by the committee were proposals that would:

ESTABLISH a unified district board of seven trustees. They would be nominated from former individual district areas but would be elected at large.

BETTER PLANNING IS GOAL

Daly City Forms Architecture Unit

By RON BATES

The Daly City council Monday night took a fresh look at its often tedious chore of granting use permits and rezoning applications and decided to establish an architecture committee to study them in depth.

The city recently has been caught up in a swirl of apartment house construction.

According to Mayor Michael DeBernardi, the committee will use the council's powers of permission to require developers to "upgrade" their property with landscaping, and to require more complete plans.

"We don't want the area to develop as a series of boxes," he said.

Councilmen Edward Dennis and Bernard Lycett were named to the committee. They were put to work right away as three controversial apartment projects were referred to them at Monday night's meeting.

Charles Garry of 482 Wellington Street presented the council with a petition bearing 151 signatures of neighbors opposed to apartment development proposed by E. T. Komsthoef at Wellington Avenue and Peoria Street and Wellington and Brunswick Street.

Garry's petition stated that the residents "opposed vigorously the proposed ordinance and demand that the neighborhood pattern remain residential."

Garry claimed none of the residents had been informed of a variance request by Komsthoef to build a four-story apartment house at Wellington and Peoria.

City Attorney Paul Hupf claimed that the State Legislature in 1961 had eliminated the requirement of mailing notification on zoning changes to neighboring residents but the city has continued to do this anyway.

The city, however, has never notified residents on variances, he said.

One resident, Jerry Kelly, of 362 Peoria Street, proposed that the property now being graded by Komsthoef be used for a park in the area.

"The residents will go in together to buy that property for a park, if necessary," Kelly said.

The third project turned over to the architecture committee was a request from developer Gus Pedemonte for apartment zoning at the end of Vendone Street.

Residents of the area presented the council with pictures of damage to their homes they claimed had resulted during grading operations now in progress.

Three other residents complained to the council about incidents concerning water storage.

Betsy Blum, of 379 Irvington Street, said she had been worried about mud and water she (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

D.C. Teacher Is Killed in Auto Crash

Victim Dies On Her 27th Birthday

A young Daly City school teacher was killed Monday on her twenty-seventh birthday.

Mrs. Anne Katsaros, 138 Irvington Street, Daly City, an instructor at Thomas Edison School was driving on Skyline Boulevard near Harding Road in San Francisco at 8:30 a.m. and apparently lost control of her car.

San Francisco Officer George Lockhart said that her car crossed over the double line and crashed into a northbound station wagon driven by Mrs. Violet Re, 23, 327 Palomar Street, Daly City. The impact threw Mrs. Katsaros onto the pavement where she died instantly.

Mrs. Re, suffered cuts and bruises and chest injuries and was treated at Alameda Emergency Hospital. She was then transferred to Mount Zion Hospital.

The Thomas Edison P-TA has cancelled its scheduled meeting tomorrow night in memoriam to Mrs. Katsaros.

Vigilance Promised

Pacifica planning commissioners agreed Monday that they should be more vigilant in watching new apartment construction to make sure developers are not taking advantage of the city.

Commissioners agreed that despite concessions made by the city when new apartments on Adobe Drive were constructed the contractor failed to live up to the spirit of an agreement by failing to utilize as well as possible property on which the apartments were built.

It is possible under present ordinances for a developer to get more units in an apartment than is warranted by lot size, the commission complained. It was decided that in the future

Extension of Muni System Under Study

Daly City may be receiving bus service from San Francisco's Municipal Railway Systems if a cost study of the service proves favorable, Councilman Frank Pacelli reported Monday night.

Pacelli, chairman of the council's transportation committee, said he, Councilman Albert Polonsky and City Manager Edward Frank met Monday afternoon with Robert Kirkwood, head of the Public Utilities Commission, and Vernon Anderson, manager of the Muni lines to discuss the possibility of extending the system into Daly City.

Two members of the system's engineering staff have been assigned to study the extension, Pacelli said.

HAVE the combined district assume the bonded indebtedness of the individual districts. The trustee representation provision was approved by a 7-3 vote. The other two provisions were adopted by a 10-0 vote.

The Bayshore Elementary School District, which has steadfastly opposed the unification proposal, abstained on all three votes.

A motion that the unification proposal also contain an alternative provision setting the unified district's tax rate at a maximum of five per cent., advocated by the high school board, was tabled to give the county committee time to study the five per cent figure.

During the earlier discussion, Paul Bradley, chairman of the committee, pointed out that the augmented group had four alternatives:

(1) Change the unification proposal, (2) reach a vote on the administrative provisions and permit the entire proposal to reach a public vote, (3) table the unification study or (4) halt the study completely and thereby permit the state to step in and draw up its own plan.

Bradley added that if any unification proposal was going to founder, he would rather see the proposal turned down by the public rather than by the State Board of Education.

Cooper quickly agreed. He declared: "We concur wholeheartedly that the people should decide. Let's get it (the proposal) out into the people's hands and let them decide."

Earlier, Dr. Ernest Nelson, a member of the county committee, observed:

"We don't like to marry you people (join districts) by force. All up and down the line we've compromised here and there."

He was referring to the committee's unification studies and proposals in other parts of the county.

Thomas Noonan, chairman of the Jefferson Elementary School Board, reiterated a previous observation he has made when he declared:

"There's no avid public support for the configuration (unification plan) that has been presented. I'm sure it will be defeated."

The initial part of the meeting was devoted to letters concerning the Laguna Salada District's proposal to organize two unified school districts within the boundaries of (1) the Jefferson, Bayshore and Brisbane Elementary districts and (2) the Laguna Salada District.

Contest Set For Speeches

The area five Serious Speech Contest for Toastmasters International will be held Saturday night at 7:30 at the Sea Bowl in Pacifica, according to area Governor Ed Dominon.

Five speakers will compete for the opportunity to speak at the district contest in April. The district covers an area from San Francisco to King City.

The speakers will be Dave Sumbardo of the Daly City club; Rung Halverson of the Pacifica AM club; Norman Alvares of the Pacifica PM club; Rudy Wohlmut of the Skyline club and Charles Lindsay of the Burlingame club.

Zoning Bid To Be Aired In Pacifica

The highly controversial proposal to rezone the Sanchez Adobe area will come before the Pacifica City Council tonight.

Developer James Telegan is asking that four corner lots at Adobe Drive and Linda Mar Boulevard be rezoned for commercial development.

Proposed are two gasoline stations and a neighborhood shopping center. The Pacifica Planning Commission has rejected the proposal. The final decision must be made by the city council.

The council also will act on an application for a pet hospital in a commercially zoned area in Sharp Park.

A hearing date for the Palmetto Avenue parking plan is scheduled to be set.

As proposed by the Planning Commission, the plan will set a one-way street pattern, provide additional right-of-way and establish building set-back lines and parking standards.

Officials expect Palmetto Avenue to become one of the city's principal business thoroughfares.

City Manager Karl Baldwin has reported that because of new gas tax funds available, it appears that the property owners' assessment for the Palmetto improvement project can be reduced by at least $5 per front foot.

A request from Eureka Square Merchants' Association to rename Kidwell Drive to Eureka Square Drive and Talbot Street to Eureka Circle will be heard by council tonight.

JUHS Asked to Consider Policy

He said that "it is radically different from what you have considered before." And he added:

"It's as close to a union agreement we can get without actually asking for a union itself."

Gillis emphasized that the proposed policy would continue to leave final authority in the hands of the board of trustees.

"You would retain all your authority," he emphasized.

The policy would cover such matters as the handling of employee problems or difficulties, recognition of employee organizations, and recommendations from employees.

The district now has two employee organizations—the Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association and the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The district has 200 classified employees (those who do not have teaching credentials) and about 280 teachers and administrators.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the board, told Gillis trustees would study his proposal and take it up at a future meeting.

In other action, the board reluctantly accepted the resignation of Dietrich Vollbrecht as head of the science department at Jefferson High School.

Vollbrecht, also a biology teacher at Jefferson, has been with the district since 1935.

In his letter of resignation, he noted that he will complete his 30th year of teaching June 12 and said he planned "with some reluctance" to retire at that time.

After reading his letter, Fontana noted that Vollbrecht "is, indeed, a person in the teaching profession who is dedicated." He called for a vote of appreciation for the educator's services, which was quickly approved.

In still other action, Charles Yore, the district's purchasing agent, reported that employees have formed a credit union and have applied for a charter from the state.

Schools Superintendent Edward Morgan said his administration would recommend that the district authorize the withholding of credit union payment from the salaries of employees who so requested.

Advertising Talk Planned

Fred Livingston, retail display advertising representative of a San Francisco newspaper, will be the keynote speaker at 6:30 Tuesday evening when the Westlake Shopping Center Merchants' Association holds its monthly dinner-meeting in the Sai Wu Restaurant.

Toastmaster Open House Scheduled

An open house program for all persons interested in improving their speaking ability will be held by the Daly City Toastmasters Club at the Westlake Park Clubhouse in Daly City Thursday, March 19, at 8 p.m., according to Club President David Sumbardo.

A program of speakers and table topics is planned to introduce the organization to residents of the North County.

Daly City Engineer William Chapman, district Boy Scout executive Robert Hutton and automobile parts store Manager Marshall Bloss, will be the featured speakers, Sumbardo said.

Toastmaster of the evening will be Ed Dominon, area governor of Toastmasters International in the North County.

The Daly City club, which draws its membership from North San Mateo County and San Francisco, is open to all men over 21, Sumbardo said. It meets regularly Thursdays at 7 a.m. in the Westlake Library in Daly City.

by the meeting," he added. "There seems to be a different attitude prevailing under Mayor (John) Shelley." Pacelli said that under Mayor George Christopher, the idea was hardly even considered.

3 Appointed In Pacifica

Mayor Harold Feyge of Pacifica this week announced three appointments by the City Council to city committees.

Cornelius O'Connor, 251 Gateway Drive, a funeral parlor director, was named to the Safety Committee. He is the first resident of the city's new Fairmont subdivision to serve on a city committee.

Ada Bana, 1411 Serra Drive and James Foley, attorney, 110 Monterey Road, were appointed to the Personnel Advisory Board.

Edward F. Bass of 598A Vista Grande Avenue, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that a tool box had been stolen from his basement.

50 D.C. Volunteers Aid Jewish Welfare Drive

Fifty Daly City volunteers, working in behalf of the Jewish Welfare Federation campaign, will take to the field Sunday to call on prospects. The campaign goal is $2.5-million.

Directing the all-day mobilization will be Mrs. Max Wahl of 39 Park Manor Drive, Daly City, chairman. Assisting her will be co-chairmen Mrs. Oscar Balin and Mrs. Gerd Salomon.

The Daly City workers will be part of a volunteer army of more than 800 campaign workers in the San Francisco area participating in the "residential Sunday" effort.

Funds raised will go to 36 local, national and overseas health, immigrant rescue, rehabilitation and social welfare agencies.

Area beneficiary agencies include the Bureau of Jewish Education, Emanu-El Residence Club, Homewood Terrace, Jewish Family Service Agency, Mt. Zion Hospital and Medical Center and the San Francisco Jewish Community Center.

Earlier, Lindquist said that a moratorium on Bay fill would "kill the project." Citing the various delays that would be caused, he said it would be eight years before work could begin.

He added that if the study and work on the air center project did not begin soon, San Francisco International Airport would "lose the race" for supersonic air trade to Los Angeles.

A Summer in Europe

Two Westmoor Juniors Chosen for AFS Tour

By BETH BUCKLEY
Westmoor Correspondent

TWO WESTMOOR High School juniors will be traveling abroad this summer to represent the school in the Experiment in International Living Program.

They were selected for the honor by the school's International Friendship Club. The overall program is sponsored by the American Field Service. The students are:

Terry Hunter, (left, above) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hunter of 803 Maddux Drive and Linda Wallace, (right) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wallace of 41 Westline Drive.

The juniors were chosen over 13 other applicants. They will spend one month with a foster family in Austria and one month traveling with a group of exchange students.

Leaving New York by ship in June, they will probably receive a crash course in German and a few pointers on diplomacy.

After 10 days aboard ship, they will arrive in Rotterdam. From there, they will travel by train to their respective new homes in Austria.

TERRY'S reason for wanting to go is "to learn to understand a different culture and perhaps by doing so, I will gain a larger understanding of my own culture."

She now serves as vice president of the International Friendship Club and as vice president of Westmoor's Creative Writing Club. She also is secretary of Junior Statesmen and a member of the French Club.

Linda plans on going into some branch of foreign service some day. She says that she wants to "gain first hand knowledge of how other people think and why they think that way."

She serves as secretary of the International Friendship Club, and is a member of the Junior Statesmen and French Club.

She also is a teen model and serves on The Emporium's Hi-Board. Last year she placed second in a Chinese speech contest at San Francisco State College.

TWO STUDENTS are able to take part in the experiment because of the community-school joint sponsorship of the program.

Participating in a drive to raise funds to send the girls overseas are Hartley Appleton, the Rev. Kenneth Hansen, Peter Markovich and the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, members of the local AFS finance committee.

Anyone wishing to contribute may mail his contributions to the American Field Service Fund, Westmoor High School, Daly City.

The local AFS chapter, in addition to the finance committee members, also includes Mrs. Eleanor Raymond, Mrs. Mrs. Lois McNabb and Paul Zimmerman Jean Sunderman and Mrs. Hazel Eagleton from the community at large and Mrs. Lois McNabb and Paul Zimmerman from Westmoor.

PLEA TO S.S.F.

Pacifica Urges Arterial Action

Pacifica city councilmen last week urged their counterparts in South San Francisco to make an immediate decision on whether Chestnut Avenue or Hickey Boulevard should be extended to the Coast as the north county's first major cross county arterial.

Before passing a resolution to be sent to the State Division of Highways, the county, South San Francisco and Daly City, councilmen expressed the fear that unless a cross-county arterial is agreed on locally immediately, the county may lose construction of a diamond interchange over Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Although South San Francisco Council at first favored the Hickey Boulevard extension it since appears to have swung towards the Chestnut Avenue extension, observers say.

Pacifica councilmen pointed out last week that while the state and county are putting up $500,000 towards construction of the traffic interchange, South San Francisco's share of construction is only $50,000.

A delay in agreement on the local level could mean that the state would allocate the funds elsewhere, the Pacifica Council warned.

In other actions, the council: Scheduled a public hearing for April 1 on a traffic and parking program for the Sharp Park area west of the new freeway. Street widenings, a system of one-way streets and parallel and diagonal parking areas are planned.

Accidents Hurt 2 in Daly City

A youngster was hit by a car and a driver fell out of his truck in two traffic mishaps in Daly City Friday afternoon.

The youngster, Sheila Colombana, 10, of 383 Bel Mar Avenue, Daly City, suffered facial lacerations when she was struck by a car at Southgate Avenue and Windsor Drive.

She was given emergency treatment at Peninsula Hospital and then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Police identified the driver of the car as Gilbert J. Romano, 48, of Hayward.

In the other accident, Henry A. Olmo, 42, of San Francisco, fell from his truck as he was making a right turn from Schwerin Street into Geneva Avenue.

members of the personnel advisory board and one member of the traffic safety committee.

Referendum foe Leader Meets With Coast Unit

Frank Quinn, formerly director of the San Francisco Council for Civic Unity and now head of the statewide campaign opposing a referendum to end the Rumford Fair Housing Act, has met in Pacifica with members of an interracial relations committee.

Quinn was invited to advise the group on organizational plans.

The committee was formed as the result of a race and residence forum series sponsored last fall by the North Coast Community Council.

Its 20 members hope to be the nucleus of a permanent organization.

Chairman pro-tem Monica Olsen said the committee will work this year specifically toward defeating the anti-Rum-ford Act amendment and will announce its organization plans. He holds executive positions in several professional organizations and is soon to be awarded his Ph.D. in philosophy and humanities from Stanford University.

In 1961, he was named Mr. Democrat of San Mateo County by the San Mateo County Democratic Central Committee. He holds and has held executive positions in Democratic bodies in the county.

CAR TOP TAKEN

David Harlick of 125 Coronado Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had taken the top and side windows of his sports car roadster while it was parked in front of his home.

2d Democrat Seeks Party Endorsement

W. Mark Sullivan, an active worker for the Democratic party in the county, has announced he will seek the party's nomination for Congressman from the 11th Congressional District.

Sullivan said he will ask the party's endorsement at the San Mateo County Democratic Convention in Burlingame Saturday.

He is the second Democrat to announce his candidacy. The other is Donald Danforth of Pacifica.

Sullivan, 37, of 2276 Sheraton Place, San Mateo, is chairman of the department of philosophy and associate professor of philosophy at the College of Notre Dame, Belmont.

PROBABLY among the most surprising developments of the past NFL basketball season was that Jefferson's outspoken basketball coach, Mike Orlich, managed to stay out of any major controversy.

For Mike, this could be a record, though we admit the year isn't over yet.

Orlich is one guy who isn't afraid to speak up if he thinks he's right. That means to anybody. Especially sports writers.

Mike's pet sports writer peeve is the guy who phones him before a basketball game and asks him if he thinks he's going to win.

"If I didn't think we were capable of winning any game we went out to play," says Orlich, "we wouldn't show up. That's the most ridiculous thing any writer can ever ask a coach. The next most ridiculous thing is when they pull a switch and ask you if you think they'll lose."

Ridiculous questions such as those outlined by Orlich are often what cause sensational quotes. A coach will answer a silly question facetiously and the reporter either takes the answer seriously, or, needing a good story, chooses to ignore the tone of the answer and puts it, verbatim, into cold, serious print.

THE CLASSIC stupid question, of course, is asking a pitcher who has just thrown a no-hitter if he had good stuff.

We believe it was Sandy Koufax, after one of these, who shocked a reporter by claiming he had often had better stuff and been knocked out of the box.

Koufax seems to have made an art of dealing with innocuous reporters.

Just before the series last year, a television interviewer asked Sandy if he thought the Dodgers had any chance at all of breaking through Yankee invincibility, and to analyze the Yankee winning formula.

"I wouldn't know anything about the Yankees," said Sandy. "We played all our games against National teams this year."

He thereupon walked away, leaving the TV reporter with a dazed grin on his face. Like when an announcer says: "And now a word from our sponsor," and he has to grin at the red light while the boys in the projection room repair the just-busted commercial film.

A couple of years ago a reporter called Orlich prior to a game in which Mike's Indians were big underdogs. "Mike," asked the reporter, "do you think you'll win?"

So Mike sneeringly told him, "Win? Why if THEY win, it'll be an upset."

Orlich hung up, sure he had made his point.

So the next day the paper proved its reporter had at least a sharp pencil, if not a sharp intellect, by coming out with screaming headlines to the effect that Orlich had said that if a 10 point favorite beats his team, it'll be an upset.

WHILE ON the subject of Mike's sometimes low boiling point, there's a two year old story that's been fermenting in our typewriter on which the literary statute of limitations must have by now run out.

Don Delbon Terra Nova's "C" team basketball coach of a couple years ago, was forced one game to take to the court after halftime when only four of his boys were left, due to fouling out and an unusual run of injuries and illness.

Daly City natives will remember Delbon as one of Jeff's greatest all-time athletes and as perhaps the most outstanding basketball player Orlich ever coached.

Seeing Delbon on the court that day, Tiger varsity coach Rich Burt got a mischievous idea.

It became his grand plot to suit Delbon up in a TN varsity uniform the next time Jeff and Terra Nova met and to trot Delbon out on the court.

Burt, who always sports a naked needle when encountering his friendly rival, Mike, claimed it would have been worth something like a month's salary to see Orlich's famous double-take and slow-burn when he realized Delbon was suited up.

Delbon, however, never could go through with it. Said he wouldn't have kept a straight face and if Orlich didn't believe it for at least an instant, it wouldn't have been funny.

When Orlich was informed much later of the plot, he grinned slyly and said he would have pretended not to recognize Delbon, allowed the opening whistle to blow, and would then have protested the game.

"Those young guys aren't putting anything over on Mike," he said.

We guess it's wrong; you don't fight fire with fire.

NOW THAT the clamor's over, we guess it's safe to say we picked the right round in the Liston-Clay fight (?) — but the wrong fighter.

Reason why the prediction didn't make this column is because we don't predict in writing anymore. Not since we called Mantle overrated.

Those who say it was fixed should ask themselves why Liston, an athlete past 30, would throw a fight to a youngster who will probably freeze his title in the Army for the next couple of years.

And also, if a fella's going to dump a fight, he doesn't throw his shoulder out or let his eye get slashed.

Some people are wondering how the Army's going to handle Clay.

If we remember Army sergeants, there're probably a half dozen of them around who can beat Cassius right now.

Behind the barracks. Without a referee.

Billiards Ace

Willie Mosconi To Appear Here

Willie Mosconi, pictured above, the world's pocket billiard champion from 1941 to 1948 and again from 1950 to 1953 and in 1955, will give an exhibition of his cue talents Friday in the Q Room of Westlake Bowl.

The exhibitions will be at 1 and 7 p.m. and will precede a period of instruction.

Mosconi will devote his show to a demonstration of billiard fundamentals, designed to show the beginner how to approach the game.

He'll also have along his well-filled bag of trick shots.

Mosconi holds a number of billiards records, including his feat of scoring a high run of 526 to establish a new world's exhibition record. He set this record by beating his own mark of 365.

One of his favorite plays is his "machine-gun shot." In this trick, Willie employs a force-fellow with side "English," which caroms the cue ball off each of 15 balls before counting on a corner pocket shot.

Mosconi retired from tournament play in 1958.

Rams Face Tough Foe Tomorrow

Meet Blackford In Peninsula Tourney

Westmoor's Rams, champions of the North Peninsula Basketball League, will tackle their toughest assignment of the year tomorrow afternoon when they meet a strong Blackford club in the opening game of the Peninsula Basketball Tournament in the Stanford Pavilion.

Game time is 4 p.m. The Rams will be rated the underdog.

Blackford swept undefeated through its season in the tough West Santa Clara Valley League — winning 12 games to gain the loop crown. On the season overall, Blackford posted a 22-2 record.

The Rams won the NPL title with a 9-1 record. The West Santa Clara Valley Club has three players over 6-5 — two forwards at 6-5 and 6-7 and a center at 6-8.

The Rams' tallest player is Jerry Donovan, center, who stands 6-2.

Coach Tony of the Rams said his club was hit hard during practice last week by the flu. At least two players were out each day with the virus, he added.

In other tournament games involving San Mateo County teams, Aragon High School, the Mid-Peninsula League's champion, will face Gilroy, rated one of the tourney's top teams, at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Woodside will make its first trip to the tourney, carrying the South Peninsula Athletic League banner into a game tomorrow evening against Lincoln of San Jose.

Jim Carroll, a guard from Atlanta, Ga., will captain the Notre Dame football team next fall.

For their 1737 effort, Wes and Sam shared the $50.00 weekly prize and now stand first in line for the $750 guaranteed first place prize.

I SPENT a most enjoyable day at the Sports Center Bowling Establishment in San Francisco while attending a bowling instructors forum presented by bowling champion Bill Bunetta. Bill has been traveling all over the United States giving the forums to proprietors and their instructors. He is a wonderful speaker and completely captured his audience for the entire day. The highlights of the week:

Steve Lewis, 10-year-old Bantam bowler, rolled a 221 game. Steve holds a 108 average in the league. Kind of makes you want to hide under a cabbage leaf, doesn't it, adult bowlers? Kind of chilly under this here leaf! He comes from two very good bowler parents, Mom Lenore and Dad Roland.

Aquanots: Marge Ohlander had the big game and series of the day with a 207-556. Mary Vindum who holds a 96 average in the league bowled a nice 145 game. Glenna Baker made like a pro and picked up the 5-7. Alleyholics: Charlotte Stone had the big series of the day with a nice 514. Carol Brown, 459; Dora Helm, 456; Barbara Buckley, 456. Dot Butler picked up the 4-7-10 split.

Sea Beetles: Eva Romero did it again this week for both top honors with a nice 139-397. Ann Gough, 138; Charlotte Dorr, 138; Arlene Hylton, 133 and Shirley Smyth, 134. Beachcombers: Dick Krone had the big game of 204-580; Ron Jodsaas, 193-529.

WEDNESDAY MEN'S 775: Dave Hemberger of the Purity Team had a beautiful 232 for the high game and a 574 for the big series. Other nice games: Bob Eckett, 203; Al Saxen, 203, and Roland Lewis, 230. Keglerettes: Jackie Schneider of the Coastside Insurance Realty Team topped the league for game and series with a 190-506. Beautiful bowling Jackie!

Mermaids: Betty Moreno shot high game of 178. Other big games: Robbie Ash, 174; Marie Nordin, 177; Betty Becker, 175, and Marty Parker, 175.

Alicia Bieser and Gerry Saries were trying for triplacates but both flubbed it in the third game. Alicia, 125 twice, and Gerry, 130 twice. Vera Shipley picked up the 5-7-10 pins. Merchants 820: Larry Matheus had the big series of 214-548; Tom Swinger the big game of 220.

Mixed Masters: Floyd Squires had the big series of 190-524. Al Tice had the high game of 203. Lois Mobley gave the fellas a bit of stiff competition with her 190-512. Goodie, goodie!

Giammona Named Top NPL Coach

TONY GIAMMONA

Tony Giammona, coach of the North Peninsula Basketball League's champion Rams, has been named "coach of the Year" by the Post-Times sports staff.

Giammona edged out El Camino Coach Gary Kenny in the balloting to win the honor. This is the second consecutive year he has been named.

Giammona's club went into the league race as the pre-season favorite when three players from his first team of last year's championship club returned—Bruce Hix, Bill Broughton and Al-NPL forward Mike Morrison.

The Rams lost the favorite's role in the opening NPL tournament after falling to Mike Orlich's Jefferson Indians.

Broughton and Hix decided to sit out the season and Morrison never came up to last year's form.

Giammona was left with almost a completely new team to develop. Most of the players had little or no experience.

Westmoor's chances for the title dropped even more after South San Francisco upset the Rams early in the season.

Fortunately for Giammona, transfer Jim Mason developed as a scorer and rebounder and guard Mike Hannigan came out of nowhere as a floor leader.

Westmoor won the title by compiling a 9-1 record, outdistancing second place El Camino, which posted a 6-4 mark.

Kenny gave Giammona a run for the title. Despite the loss of guard Hal Westmoreland, he developed a club that was in the running for the title up until the last three games.

Palmer Enters San Jose Race

Clyde Palmer, Mountain View, California state champion in the NASCAR Modified division in 1962, will top local entries in the 200-lap event for 1962-64 late model stock cars at San Jose Speedway Sunday.

Palmer, widely known for his race driving in hardtop, midjet and big car competition, will drive the Carl Dane 1963 Mercury with which he took fourth place in the Sacramento 100 last September.

Local entries also are expected to include George Benson, a San Jose driver who has won numerous hardtop and midjet events in his 10 years of competition in California and elsewhere. Benson's car is a 1963 Oldsmobile.

Leading drivers of the NASCAR Pacific Coast Late Model Division have sent in entry forms to compete in the San Jose 200-lapper on the third-mile paved track, the race a championship event.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

COME MARCH 17, the world is full of Irishmen: the O'Tooles, the O'Kelleys, the O'Schmidts and the O'Goldbergs are everywhere. Somehow, everyone likes to celebrate St. Patrick's day and the markets feature corned beef, cabbage and turnips — all displayed in a surrounding of green.

In case you've never celebrated the day with the traditional boiled dinner, I'll pass on to you a recipe that I received years ago from Mrs. Dolly Kennedy who used to live in Holy Name parish in San Francisco and now resides in San Jose.

CORNEBEEF AND CABBAGE

- 6 pounds corned beef brisket
- 1 cabbage
- 3 turnips
- 6 onions
- 4 carrots
- 6 potatoes
- bay leaf
- whole clove

Cover meat with cold water. Add two bay leaves and four whole cloves. Heat rapidly to boiling, then remove scum, reduce heat and simmer until tender, three to four hours. Prepare vegetables, cutting turnips into quarters and cabbage into eighths. About 45 minutes before serving, skim fat from liquid. Add the turnips, onions, carrots and potatoes. Then about a half hour later, add the cabbage (you don't want it to get too soft) and cook until the vegetables are tender. Drain well and serve. Serves 10.

IF YOU LIKE, you may serve beets with this dish. Just cook them separate from the other vegetables and arrange all on a large serving platter.

Along with the boiled dinner, I always serve this delicious soda bread. This recipe is really easy to make and most delicious.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKES BREAD

- ¾ cup seedless raisins
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon caraway seed
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sour milk

Rinse and drain raisins. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda. Cut in shortening. Stir in caraway seed and raisins; beat egg lightly and add sour milk. Stir into dry mixture, blending only until all flour is moistened (important: don't overmix). Turn into greased eight-inch round baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400-degrees) about 20 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve with butter. Makes eight wedges.

NOW IT JUST may happen that you have some of the boiled dinner left over. And a very good way to use it up is in Red Flannel Hash.

RED FLANNEL HASH

- 1½ cups left-over corned beef, finely chopped
- 1½ cups chopped cold beets
- 3 cups chopped cooked cold potatoes
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 tablespoons light cream

Combine beef, beets, potatoes, onion salt, pepper and Worcestershire. Add cream and mix lightly. Melt fat in a heavy skillet. Spread meat mixture evenly in bottom. Cook over low heat without stirring about 30 minutes. (Loosen around edges with a spatula and shake skillet occasionally to prevent sticking.)

When crust forms on bottom, make a shallow cross-wise cut in top. Tip skillet and slip out so that hash folds over like an omelet. Serves 4 to 6. If desired, top with poached eggs.

And a happy Paddy's day to ya'!

SURE, AND it's a fact that all the leprechauns, elves and the brownies, will be takin' a wee bit of time off from their mischief-makin' on St. Patty's to break bread with Daly City's favorite lass of song, Patti Stolz.

Mrs. Stolz, the lovely lady who directs the Daly City Community Chorus, has been busy the past few days gathering up shilleaghs and shamrocks and a few top hats of kelly green hue with which to transport her beautiful home into a bit of Ireland for a luncheon she will host on that magic day when everyone in the country becomes an Irishman.

Aside from the "wee people," Mrs. Stolz has made plans to entertain all the ladies of the community chorus and though she expects a lot of gay chatter and blarney, the prime purpose for the business segment of the luncheon will be a proposed reorganization of the Belletones.

To many people who have heard the Belletones in the past and have a real appreciation for their music, the word "reorganization" may cause undue alarm, according to Mrs. Stolz. Restructuring of the group will mean the ladies will be able to hold more, rehearsals, increase the repertoire and present a more balanced sound, she said.

Such has been the success of this talented musician in the year and a half that she has worked with the Daly City Recreation Department on the development of the chorus that it seems assured that the Belletones will continue to grow in stature as a musical organization.

Not only has Mrs. Stolz proved her musical talent in the past months but she has also exhibited a remarkable talent for drawing people to her in warm friendship and affection as evidenced by the surprise birthday party given her by the members of the chorus and employees of the Recreation Department.

Charles Vincent of the Park and Recreation Department was on hand last week to lead the chorus in a rendition of appropriate birthday music and to present a plaque to Mrs. Stolz for faithful and valuable service to the City of Daly City. The plaque carried the signature of Daly City Mayor Michael deBernardi and City Clerk Mrs. Anna Olandorf.

Chorus members honoring Mrs. Stolz gathered around a table made festive by shamrocks and a beautiful cake. A doll dressed in costume, the exact replica of one worn by Mrs. Stolz when she portrayed Lillian Russell in a recent program, was also included in the presentation of the plaque and a bouquet of American Beauty Roses.

Arrangements for the party were made by Janet Gilmore and Ellamae Schultz.

BEFORE COMPLETELY leaving the subject of St. Patrick's Day, let's pause long enough to add two words of the Gaelic language to our vocabularies.

The women of the Mercy Shield call the words "Taispeantas Faisean" to our attention and ask that we bear them in mind when making our plans for St. Patrick's Day. Literally translated, they mean, "Showing of Fashion," and that is what the ladies will be doing Tuesday.

Mrs. William Whelan, chairman of the models for the Taispeantas Faisean, confides that the following models were chosen for their Irish charm: Mrs. John Riordan, Mrs. Adolph Calegari, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Odd Olsen, Mrs. John J. McCarthy, Mrs. George Morasci, Mrs. Ivan Nealon, Mrs. Eugene Soares and Mrs. Carroll Collins.

The show also will feature three lovely student models, all seniors at Mercy High. The girls are Camille Bonfilio, a striking brunette; Kathy Phipps, an alluring young blonde and Denise Hammer, a vivacious redhead.

Mrs. Virginia Williamson of the Medical Arts Pharmacy in San Mateo has volunteered to "glamorize" all the models with a professional make-up application prior to show time.

Reservations for the show are still available for anyone calling Mrs. Arnold Avitabile at 343-9240.

The members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers' Club will meet tonight at 8 in the parish hall to hear the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph Munier of the Mt. Carmel Parish in Redwood City.

A THIRD CHILD, the first daughter, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lane of Westlake last Wednesday. Charissa Odella, who weighed eight pounds and two ounces, and her proud mother were released from San Francisco's Children's Hospital this past week end.

THE MEMBERS of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home voted to retain the current slate of officers for another year at the circle meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

According to Mrs. Doris Plant, publicity chairman, the decision to continue with the same officers was made because of the relative youth of the group. "We were organized in February of 1963 and our officers have just begun to get things rolling so it seemed wiser not to change leadership at this time," Mrs. Plant said.

Serving for another term will be Mrs. Peter Markovich, president; Mrs. Thomas Bocci Jr., vice chairman; Mrs. Warren Hutchins, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Poggio, treasurer.

The re-election of the officers was part of the regular monthly meeting held in Daly City's War Memorial Building. The scheduled program, a film which explored the problems created in our society by a growing number of unwed teen-age fathers, was lost in shipping and so Mrs. Helene Nemscoff, a member of the staff of the home, provided a very interesting recording that the members listened to and later discussed.

THE WESTLAKE Catholic Women have extended their appreciation to everyone who helped to make yesterday's doughnut sale such a success.

The proceeds for the sale will benefit the parish school, Mrs. Jack Rose, publicity chairman, has announced. Chairmen of the sale were Mrs. Walter McElroy and Mrs. Vincent Alberti.

The last thing you'll need is power steering.

Power steering is for cars that are hard to steer. Heavy cars, with big front engines to push around. With a rear-engined VW, you won't need power steering. Or power brakes. Or optional, higher-powered engines. Which is just as well. They're not available. On the other hand, we have some extras you can't avoid: Four-speed stick shift. Bucket seats. A heater/defroster. A windshield washer. Because you can't avoid them, we don't charge any extra. If you insist on paying more, we have a few things to offer: A sunroof. Leatherette upholstery. A radio. Whitewall tires. A side-view mirror. If that's still not enough, maybe you should look at something fancier. More power to you.

'Salute to Spring' Fashion Show Set

Westlake Mall To Host Event

On-the-Go-Able Style Qualities

PAUL SPEEGLE
Commentator

Rainwear Has Risen From Practicality

Rainwear has come such a long way in the past few years from the utility fashion to the exciting fashion that it seems as though it could progress no further.

But, there is news for spring — coordination is the key. Raincoats are matched with hats and umbrellas, even mittens. And with weather-proofing possible to achieve on almost every fabric, there's an endless array of fabric choices available.

The Westlake Shopping Center will get a head start on Spring Saturday.

The center will present a major fashion show, "A Salute to Spring," in the center's mall, starting at 1 p.m. It will be free to the public.

Headlining a show cast of professional talent and models will be Paul Speegle, well known Bay Area master of ceremonies and drama critic. He will serve as the show's commentator. He will be assisted by organist Mrs. Ivyle Lederer.

The show will be co-ordinated by two North County women who are well versed in fashion show productions.

They are Mrs. Jeanette Parkinson, fashion co-ordinator for H. Liebes Company and Virginia Church, San Mateo County YWCA director.

The entire show will be held out-of-doors on a specially constructed stage and floral ramp in the center's mall.

Each of the center's 91 stores and merchants will participate in the show by giving away merchandise awards to lucky patrons.

The models will be members of the YWCA. They will represent such Westlake businesses as H. Liebes, Penney's, Pauson's, Sue Scott Apparel, Casual Aire, Cable Car Casuals, The Fashion, Jay-Vee Stores, W. T. Grant, New England Shop and Westlake Bowl.

PARTICIPATING in the Westlake Shopping Center's gala fashion show on the center mall will be these models and one of the show's two co-ordinators. The models, from left, are Mrs. Barbara Harvey, Mrs. Jean Williams and Mrs. Marsha McGuirk. At right is Virginia Church, director of the San Mateo County YWCA and a co-ordinator of the show. The models are members of the YWCA. The show, "A Salute to Spring," will begin at 1 p.m.

In this on-the-go world it is essential that there are many on-the-go-able fashions. California designers, experts in this field, have come up with a wide array for spring into summer and even around the year attire, many made in light, airy wools. Easy and comfortable to wear, resistant to wrinkling, delightfully packable, long wearing, are some of their qualities, along with smart styling, gay and fun-loving colors, adaptability to many weather conditions.

Just about everyone seems to belong to this on-the-go throng, whether the "going" is to Hawaii, Europe, around the world, to the job, to church, the club for bridge or golf, shopping, or taking the children to school. Fashions must take in all of these "trips," and they do.

Versatility in a costume is a good feature, where one outfit may be made to look different through manipulation of pieces or other changes. For example, one smart outfit we have seen has a swinging, sleeveless cape made of Navy and white striped light weight wool boucle posed over a sheer navy wool dress with three-quarter sleeves and slender, easy fit lines. The trick is that the cape is lined in the dress material and is reversible to give the effect of an entirely different outfit . . . very good when you are traveling and want to hold down on luggage.

Two Main Directions For Suits

Suits take off in two main directions for spring and both end up at a destination called "feminine."

One road follows the soft, gentle approach with subtle, shaping of barely fitted jackets above swinging skirts of flares or pleats.

The other road is easy with styles that relax by, for example, eliminating jacket buttons altogether and simply showing off a softly cowl-collared blouse in a crepe or sheer. Here the skirt may be pencil slim and perhaps in crisp pencil stripes.

Either way, the total effect is the soft touch.

Linen suits really play up color and this fabric gets a big play in many suit lines, too.

Jewelry Accents The Soft Look

"Soft" suits and easy shifts in modern classic design for spring '64 rely on jewelry accents.

American and French designers agree that Chanel's interlocked initial pins are conversation ewels for understated cardigan jackets. Lapels on cut-away suits and coat dresses demand a favorite pin; scarfed necklines and sashed waistslines call for an "anchor" pin. Long-sleeved blouses focus attention on the textured gold dome ring strewn with tiny diamonds and rich-colored gems.

One important jeweled piece sparks elegance and adds the feminine touch to tailored, uncluttered dress lines.

Pocketed suits will show off chains a la Chanel; pins will accent diagonally cut fabric when placed on pocket edges. The stark mandarin necklines provide backgrounds for pins in pairs, one placed slightly higher than the other.

Banker's gray flannel suits need the fancied-up look of a classic gold pin dew-dropped with a diamond and creamy pearl as it perches at shoulder level. The same pin is versatile; it can be placed on a little hair band of fabric to match a suit or dress, an idea born of a famous American dress designer.

Nifty Navy reefers with wide collars have ample space for a fresh flower clipped into place by an impressive pin.

The "in" trends of soft rippled collars and "V" necklines are an open invitation to new-look necklaces. Fancy necklace clasps do an about-face when worn center front of the throat for added design interest.

Matinee-length necklaces and diamond-drop pendants enjoy a revival as fill-in focal points for "V" neck overblouses and open-neck acetate seaters. Elongated necklaces call for long-line jewelry.

Spring's bold patterns—florals, paisleys and abstract prints—call for careful selection of jewelry. The size of a jeweled piece should be of large enough scale to be noticed as part of the costume accent.

"Busy" fabrics tend to overshadow small, delicate jewelry. Good-sized pins with textured surfaces don't become "lost" causes on active printed fabrics. Checks and dots also require jewelry of recognizable size.

Long-sleeved blouses teamed with jumpers and sleeveless tunics direct attention to jeweled fingers. "Occasional" rings are bold in proportion, yet of simple design frosted with tiny diamonds accented with polished coral or turquoise.

New Face on Brotherhood Way

WEEK-LONG PROGRAM PLANNED

Temple to Be Dedicated

TEMPLE JUDEA of Daly City will proudly dedicate its striking new synagogue at 625 Brotherhood Way, San Francisco, (pictured above) during a week-long program of special activities next week.

The festivities will be highlighted by the official dedication of the $400,000 structure at 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 20, at the first service held in the building.

Arrangements for this service are under the direction of Judge Charles Becker, past president of the Temple Judea congregation. Rabbi Herbert Morris will officiate.

FIRST EVENT in the dedication week will be a banquet at 7 p.m. next Wednesday in the new temple's Fellowship Hall.

The banquet will honor the rabbis, past presidents, board members, members of the congregation and friends who have contributed to the growth of Temple Judea.

Max Rudorfer, another past president of the congregation, will preside.

Saturday evening, March 21, starting at 9, a pink champagne dedication ball will be held in Fellowship Hall. Arrangements are under the direction of the temple's Sisterhood and Brotherhood.

Zel Baer, president of the Brotherhood and Mrs. Nathan Sternsher, president of the Sisterhood, will preside.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON, March 22, from 1 to 4 p.m., an exhibit of art works by local and internationally known artists will be shown as a dedication to Jewish art and music.

During this program, a special musical composition, composed in honor of the synagogue and Brotherhood Way by Dr. W. Leonard Beck, will be performed by the Temple Judea Choir, and members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Hillard Goldstein, president of the congregation, will preside. Mrs. George Riba and Mrs. Herrold Orloff are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Leon Yudkin, a member of the congregation, has designed the art work for the new temple.

Lettering for the Ten Commandments will be in brushed brass and will stand 27 feet high on the Bema.

Other dedicatory events planned will be services held by the temple's school and youth group Sunday, April 5.

Plans for the dedicatory program were outlined at a press conference Monday by Rabbi Morris, Goldstein and Fred Gruen, chairman of the Temple Judea building committee.

The public may visit the new building during open house, March 23 to 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. Members of the Brotherhood and Sisterhood will serve as guides and hostesses.

THE SYNAGOGUE is the culmination of 11 years of planning by the 300-family congregation.

Temple Judea is the first Jewish Reform synagogue to be founded in San Francisco and the North County in more than 100 years. The congregation has been meeting at 95 South Mayfair Avenue in Daly City.

The new building was designed by architect John Bolles. The contractor was Henry Doelger Building Incorporated.

The sanctuary and Fellowship Hall together will seat approximately 1,000 persons.

BOLLES' DESIGN has provided a building with triangular glass windows — with the pointed side upwards — made of muted tones of pink, blue and purple.

It was his intention to direct the thoughts of the worshipper upwards through this window design.

The Bema (altar area) is marked by an ark that rises 28 feet against the sanctuary wall. The ark is an enclosure on the pulpit (Bema) where the Torah, holy scrolls inscribed on parchment vellum, remains as a permanent part of the sanctuary.

D. C. Youth Held After Wild Chase

A 17-year-old Daly City youth was captured last week in a 70-mph chase after he had driven a car from the parking lot of Westmoor High School in Daly City.

Police Officer Steven Steen reported he saw the youth starting up the car and driving away "in a suspicious manner."

He started after him with the red light and siren going, but the youth sped up.

The chase led through the St. Francis Heights section of Daly City with the youth going through stop signs, and causing one minor accident, Steen reported.

The youth's car went off the road at Southdale Avenue and Highgate Drive, and he fled on foot through the back yards of homes.

He was finally captured by Steen in a basement of the home of W. H. Butterworth at 679 Highgate Avenue.

Just Say "Charge It"

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I am 13 years old, my parents both smoke and I have been smoking for some time now and I haven't told them of it. They both say if they catch me smoking, they'll punish me.
I want to tell them but I'm afraid they will punish me. What do I do? Shall I tell them? My friends are getting tired of my bumming smokes off of them.

J.G.

Dear J. G.

If I was sure you would do what I tell you, I'd tell you to stop smoking. But I'm sure you wouldn't do that so I'll tell you the next best thing.

Tell your parents right away. Sure they'll have a fit but they'll get over it. Since they both smoke, they will understand more than you think.

They know how it is and they will try to talk you out of it for your own good. But I'm sure you won't listen so tell them for your own good.

Because you just might bum a cigarette off of the wrong guy and it will be too bad for you.

Your parents will realize that bumming smokes is dangerous. So if they're smart, they will give you the money for them. Then smoke to your heart's content.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 17-years-old and I am very confused. I am getting married this summer. My parents told me that my fiancée and I have a choice—either a big wedding or a down payment on a house.

My fiancée has left the decision up to me. I have been tortured by this decision for days until I ran across your column. I will leave it to you. What shall I do? My girl friends have all had big weddings.

A Bride-to-Be
You want me to make up your mind for you. Because of the way you closed your letter you want me to tell you, you should have a big wedding because you only get married once. And after all, your girl friends have big weddings, why shouldn't you?

I'll tell you why. The day after the wedding, you have a book full of pictures, a dress that cost you a couple of hundred dollars that you will never wear again and some stale cake.
Take my advice. Your parents are very generous and wise. Take the down payment. It is something that will take you a long time to save, and believe me, young couples just starting out have so much to pay off anyway.

Long after your wedding is over, your home will still be there. It won't be a memory that is fading with time.

Buy your house, my friend, take it from one who knows. Believe me, you'll be much happier.

And don't start off by one of you making the decisions. It's not just your wedding, you know. Your both getting married.

Teenagers: If you have a problem or issue you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

IMAGINE the crowd as you walk into the Terra Nova gym, after fighting your way through the fallen plaster, disabled and discarded air hammers, and stray boards, to see the most famous event in Tiger history—the Senior Hootenanny.

There's Bobby Freeman, there's a little kid being babysat for free, there's Dean Weber, the emcee, the Gatekeepers, and all those other more or less famous singers.

That was the scene Friday night, much to the delight of the seniors, who had been trying diligently to sell tickets for weeks before, as well as putting up posters for publicity and arranging such attractive services as providing free baby sitting for every child 10 and under. Their hard work was duly rewarded.

And in anticipation of this event were our own "Beatles," who made their debut at the rally the day of our last basketball game, which unfortunately we lost to South San Francisco.

However, the rally was a howling success. The Beatles were represented very authentically by Donna Estlund, also Tiger mascot; Jim Carr, former ASB president; Larry Garret, and Judy Lomas, who has a genuine British accent.

AMONG THE few who missed out on both the rally and the Hootenanny was poor Mr. Lane. Mr. Lane, who lost his order book here while measuring seniors for caps and gowns, never found it again. But he courageously returned to measure those seniors who were absent the day he was here.

NFL members, Cheryl Crisp, Norma MacArthur and Jeannie Halcomb competed at Lincoln High School with National Forensic League members from all over the Bay Area. Cheryl Crisp and Norma MacArthur competed in the original oratory division and Jeannie Halcomb entered in the impromptu division. Cheryl was the only one fortunate enough to make the semi-finals.

The Girls' League Clothes Board is now being organized. A girl from each class will be appointed by the executive board and another girl from each class will be elected by her classmates. The Clothes Board rules will be enforced by Paul Barnhart and the Student Order Commission. The girls voted for him, too.

Youngster Shaken Up

A four-year-old Belmont boy was shaken up in a two-car collision at Sullivan and Eighty-ninth streets in Daly City shortly before 9 Sunday night. The boy, Peter J. Woodard of 2106 Lyons Avenue was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco for observation and released. He was a passenger in a car driven by Eleanor A. Woodard, 27, of the Belmont address. She was cited for failing to yield the right of way at a stop sign. Police identified the driver of the other auto as James A. Harding Jr., 34, of 24 Ridgefield Avenue, Daly City.

Rotary Inducts Three New Members

Three new members were inducted into the Daly City Rotary Club Wednesday. They were: Sherill Pugh of National Cash Register, Ed Olsen, manager of the Serra Bowl Prior Room, and William Sereni, automotive dealer. Julian Cohn and U. R. "Jack" Kendree conducted the installation ceremonies.

A New Restaurant for Westlake

SIGNING OF a lease for a new $300,000 coffee-shop-restaurant was announced today by Henry Doelger, developer of Westlake. The new facility, to be operated by Lyons-Magnus Restaurants, will accommodate 135 persons. It will be located at 95 South Mayfair Avenue on land where Temple Judea is situated. The temple will dedicate a new synagogue on Brotherhood Way next week. Pictured at the lease signing are, left to right, Edward King, vice president of Henry Doelger Builder, Inc.; Gary S. Nachmann, vice president and general manager of Lyons restaurants; Doelger, president of the Doelger Firm; and U. R. "Jack" Kendree, managing director of Westlake Shopping Center. Construction on the building is scheduled to start next month.

Carpenters Are Seized In Pacifica

Pacifica police arrested two carpenters on burglary charges last week after a combination model home and tract office of the Doelger Development Company in the new Fairmont subdivision had been found ransacked.

Playing a key role in a stake-out that led to the carpenters' arrest was Henry Gross, chief of the Westlake Special Patrol.

Arrested were Bradford E. Lagomarsino, 20, of 455 Esplanade, Pacifica, and Charles E. Woods Jr., 24, of San Francisco.

Investigators said equipment and furniture valued at between $500 and $800 had been taken from the home.

The carpenters were arrested by Pacifica Patrolmen Charles Robert and Joseph Cressa who stopped the suspects' auto on Cabrillo Highway.

In the auto, according to Pacifica Inspector Al Tebaldi, was the top of an electric range that had been in the model home.

BETTER BUSINESS

Insurance Need Cited in Moving

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business
Bureau "Barometer"

MOVING VANS plowing up and down city streets are a sign that it is spring and the American family is again on the move.

The moving van is an essential part of our way of living. As a wife of a company executive expressed it: "I couldn't move without them."

The moving and storage business, representing millions of dollars of investment, is one of the largest industries of our country.

It is estimated that some $500-million are spent yearly in American transcontinental moving. This does not include the vast amount spent on local and intra-state moves.

The majority of the moving industry firms serve their customers to the best of their ability but there is always a small minority of careless or incompetent operators who, because of their inequities, cheat the American public out of thousands of dollars yearly.

Most city local movers are not controlled by special laws and the customer has no recourse to claims except that which the mover is willing to provide.

A gyp artist needs only an enticing ad, and the size of an ad is no indication of a company's reliability. All he needs is a truck and he is in business.

FROM THE many complaints the Better Business Bureau receives concerning moving losses, a small percentage of shippers are aware that the words "bonded and insured" means virtually no protection and it is up to them to provide their own insurance protection.

Some moving companies do carry insurance but the coverage usually carried is generally a fraction of what the total amount of loss incurred would amount to.

In moves from state to state, the Interstate Commerce Commission limits the mover's liability and governs the rates, which are usually 30 cents per pound per article.

This is not insurance but covers the mover's maximum liability should the article be lost or totally destroyed. Beware of the low estimate used by unethical moving companies to get jobs. Advance estimates are helpful but are seldom the final charge the customer receives.

The mover's rates by interstate carriers are based on actual weight of shipment, distance and any other additional services performed. Violations of the lawfully filed tariff can involve both the customer and mover.

IT IS IMPORTANT that the shipper purchase transit insurance for the full value of the shipment.

If the shipment is not fully covered, the insurance company can invoke its co-insured clause under which the shipper shares a proportionate part of the loss or damage.

Among the appliances that require the services of trained servicemen before being loaded are refrigerators, washing machines, television sets and freezers.

This must be done at the shipper's expense. A moving company is not responsible for any damage caused by improper servicing of such appliances.

A moving company is not responsible for spoilage of food-stuffs in a freezer nor for damage to freezer because of the spoilage.

INTERSTATE Commerce Laws, unless other arrangements have been made in accordance with regulations, require all tariff charges to be paid in cash, money order or certified check.

If the customer is unable to pay the charges in the required manner at delivery, the mover must deliver the goods to a warehouse.

The mover may properly require prepayment in full or in part — or guarantee of the charges before shipping.

The Interstate Commerce Commission's authority does not extend to settlement of claims for loss or damage of a shipment.

If loss or damage occurs during transit, the shipper should have the driver of the moving van make a specific notation on the inventory and delivery receipt. The company should be notified at once.

A reliable mover, in the interest of future customer relations, will make satisfactory adjustments. Because of the intrinsic value of a family's household goods, a shipper should thoroughly check into the reliability of the firm he is planning to give his moving to.

Your local Better Business Bureau will gladly give you the consumer experience records of moving companies in the area.

COMMENT

County Should Buy Airfield

NOW THAT the Federal Aviation Agency has approved a government appropriation of $543,000 toward the purchase and improvement of the San Carlos Airport by San Mateo County—the decision upon whether this purchase should be made lies squarely upon the county supervisors.

Beyond being a substantial federal contribution to the costs of this project, the FAA appropriation carries the weight of a potent recommendation that the purchase of the San Carlos Airport is essential.

The FAA does not lightly commit federal funds and would not have taken this action had it not deemed that the maintenance of the airport is vital to serve the industrial and private flying needs of this area.

This position is the same one taken by many local development leaders, firms using industrial aviation, and many private fliers. In addition, they have held that continuing the existence of this airport is highly important to the continued economic growth of San Mateo County.

THE SUPERVISORS have contracted for their own study, now being made, to ascertain the validity of these claims. This is a prudent measure the supervisors were well-advised to take; but there is no reason to suppose that the findings will be any different from those already made by the FAA and the other qualified persons who have already made investigations.

With the assurance of the federal funds the purchase and improvement project becomes wholly feasible from the standpoint that the benefits to local industry and aviation will outweigh the costs to the county.

Moreover, the experience at similar airports tends to prove that, in time, the operation of the San Carlos Airport may actually prove profitable.

It is our opinion that the supervisors, acting with all due caution and in the best interests of the county, should proceed with the acquisition and operation of the San Carlos Airport.

In time to come, it should prove a notable bargain as well as a notable contribution to the continued progress and stability of local economy.

The Marquee

Operatic Appetites

Barbara Bladen

OPERATIC appetites have been whetted by the repertoire announcement of the Spring Opera Company. The public can't help but be pleased, actually impressed with the Catholic programming of the fourth season of modestly priced productions.

The price may be modest for audiences but K. Hart Smith, president, reminds us that the company loses six thousand dollars every time they raise the curtain.

I've never understood the finances of opera and symphony companies. It seems a more positive attitude to expect that if the productions and performers are of quality, the public will pay their way through the door and occupied seats must mean that the bills are being paid. But they claim each four dollar seat costs six to produce.

In any event, Kurt Herbert Adler, general director and Howard K. Skinner, manager, have done the Bay Area a great community and cultural service in providing fresh revivals, standard favorites and new productions with the best of new and established talent.

THE SEASON will open on May 6 and run through June 13. Eleven of the performances will be open to the general public and will take place at the Opera House.

One performance will be for the University of California, also in the Opera House, and the remaining two will be given in Berkeley for the local Community Concert series.

The San Francisco Foundation has made a generous grant to create the new production of "Der Freischütz."

The increase of two performances over the number presented last season is due to the Ford Foundation grant of $25,000 annually for the next five years.

Von Weber's "Der Freischütz" will receive its first major San Francisco presentation in over 50 years. It will open the season on May 6.

Jan Popper will conduct with Dino Yannopoulos as stage director and Wolfgang Roth as designer. The cast will include Elizabeth Mosher, Gwen Curatilo, Richard Cassilly, Malcolm Smith, John West and Daniel McCaughna, Graham Forbes, David Giosso and Brian Turner. It will be sung in English.

"SUSANNAH," the contemporary American opera by Carlisle Floyd, will be offered on May 13 and 16 with Floyd himself as stage director. Herbert Grossman will conduct.

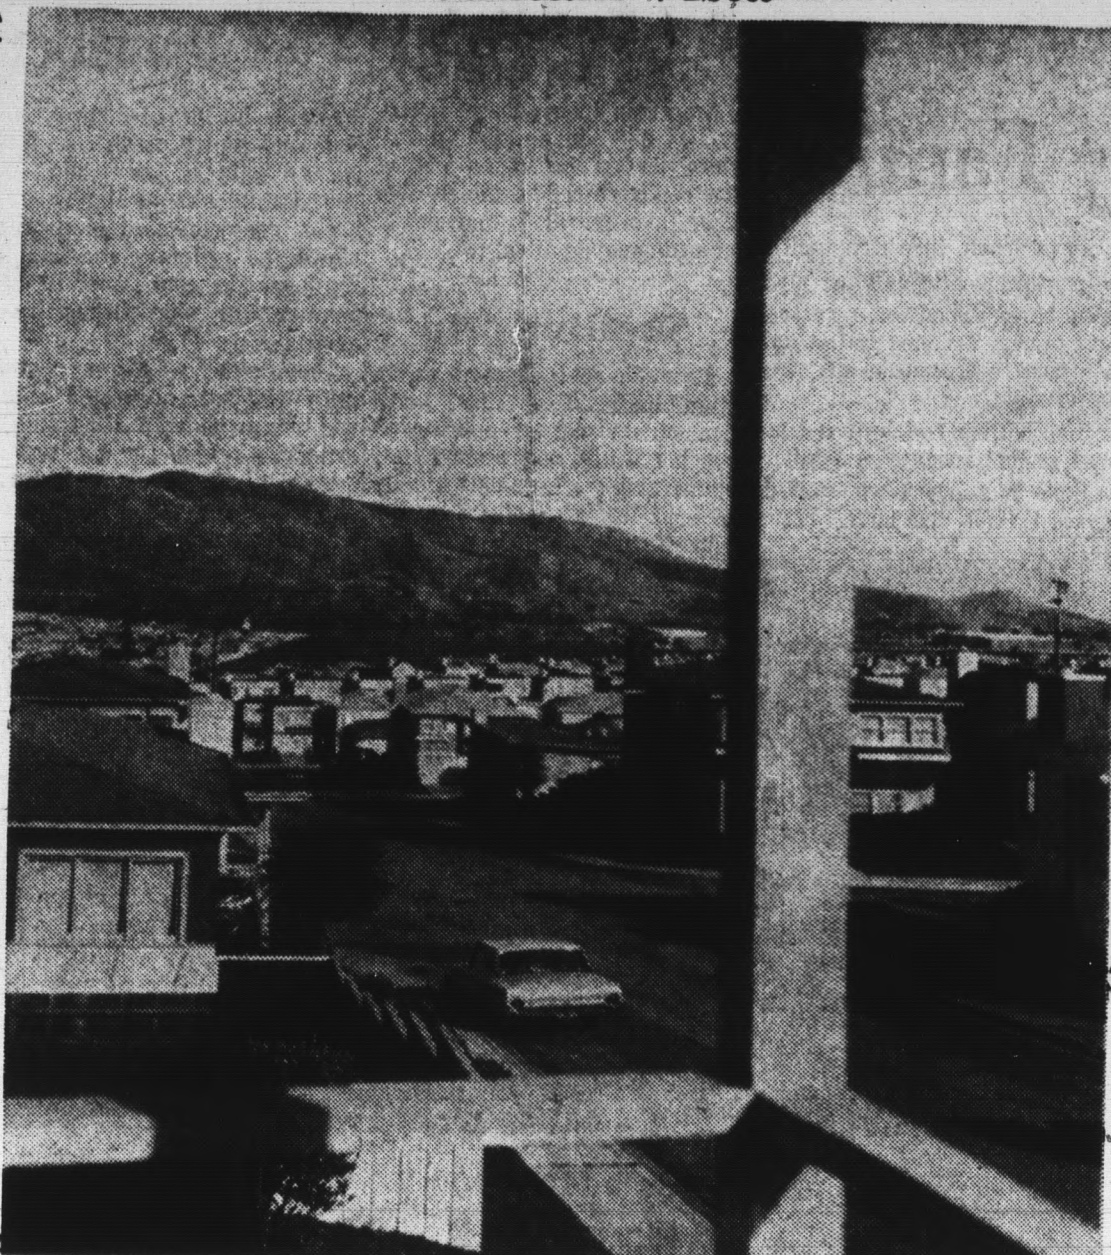

Puccini's ever popular "La Boheme," will feature Lee Venora and Janet Pavak in the lead roles on May 20. Carol Todd will sing Mimì on May 23 and Berkeley will have performances on May 27 and 28.

"The Pearl Fishers" by Bizet is slated for May 26. Gounod's "Faust" is in on the repertoire June 2 and 6.

For the first time in the Opera House, and the first time in more than half a century in San Francisco, Rossini's "The Italian Girl in Algiers" will be sung on June 9 and 13. Henry Lewis will conduct with his wife, Marilyn Horne, in the title role.

THE PERFORMANCE of each of the above operas will be included in a subscription series of six evenings. In addition, one performance only will be offered of Mozart's "The Abduction from the Seraglio." Vincent Porcaro will direct the production.

English will be the language for "Freischütz," "Susannah," "The Italian Girl," "The Abduction," with "Boheme" in Italian and "Faust" and "Pearl Fishers" in French.

North County Notebook

Will the Real D.C. Stand Up

Ron Bates

WILL THE REAL Daly City please stand up!

There's a television program called "To Tell the Truth" that is quite popular nowadays. The general format is to have three people make the same statement. However, it only applies to one of them.

A panel asks them questions for a period of time and then tries to pick out the person who is telling the truth.

I'll bet that if Daly City were a person and appeared on that program nobody would be able to pick him out.

So many of these furrier newspapers and television stations think that Daly City is in San Francisco, I think the city should go on a campaign to establish an individual identity.

RECENTLY, the author of the song, "Little Boxes," which parodies tract home living by middle income families, told the press that she got the inspiration while driving down Skyline Boulevard in Daly City.

Like enterprising journalists should, the news media men took this fact and developed it. One television station took the trouble to come out and take about three minutes of panoramic views of the Westlake section to show while the song was being played.

But, in the commentary accompanying the film, the announcer kept saying San Francisco when he should have been saying Daly City.

One of our readers cornered me last week and said: "We should do something about this. They may be ticky-tacky houses, but they're OUR ticky-tacky houses."

DALY CITY DOESN'T get any help from the telephone company either.

When former Mayor Joe Verducci was president of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors, he had mayors from the southern part of the county often trying to get in touch with him.

San Mateo Mayor Al Wisner really gave him a razzing one night after trying to find the City Hall phone number for about 20 minutes earlier that day.

When Verducci came into the Villa Chartier for the Mayors' Council meeting, Wisner asked him if Daly City was actually in the county.

He said he was going to form a committee to investigate if Verducci was legally eligible to be president of the mayors' group.

Verducci turned to City Manager Ed Frank and said: "You better get that telephone company on the ball."

Verducci is running on a county-wide ballot in his quest for a seat on the Board of Supervisors. It just wouldn't do, he knows, to have potential voters and backers think he wasn't even a resident of the county.

Of course there are even Daly City residents who still think they're part of San Francisco. The San Francisco Fire and Police Departments quite often get calls from local residents.

ONE ENTITY that should know that it's in Daly City is the Cow Palace.

The directors went all the way to Sacramento during the annexation of Bayshore to unsuccessfully back special legislation that would have kept the Cow Palace from being part of Daly City.

The directors did not want the Cow Palace to lose its identity with San Francisco. According to a report given at a recent Daly City Chamber of Commerce meeting, they still don't.

One of the Cow Palace officials told the chamber member who had phoned: "If we join any Chamber of Commerce, it would be the one in San Francisco."

It seems to me that if the Cow Palace reputation (if it's worth anything) goes to San Francisco, so should some of the problems for Daly City—like traffic lights, added police and parking spaces.

TALK ABOUT retaining a city's identity! At last week's North County Council of Cities meeting in Millbrae, Daly City Councilman Bud Lyett was promptly corrected (as I was a couple of months ago) by South San Francisco Mayor Pat Ahern when he said "South City" instead of South San Francisco.

They say you can always identify the tourists in San Francisco when they say "Frisco." I've yet to hear anybody say South Frisco, though.

The Book Shelf

Sing for Your Supper, by Pamela Frankau (Random House $4.95): Like the nursery rhyme's Tommy Tucker,

MISS FRANKAU'S fictional Weston family sings for its supper. The widower father, quite literally, with his touring revue, a mediocre production with other performers as second rate as they are likable.

The period covered in this first volume of a projected trilogy about the youngest child is a summer between school terms, spent by the children with their father's troupe at a southern English resort.

In this context, the 15-year-old daughter and 16-year-old son behave predictably but the 10-year-old son exhibits psychic powers, to the general unease of his family and nanny, an amiable nursemaid whose winters are spent at paying jobs so that she can look after the young Westons at other times.

Miss Frankau's character portrayals are especially acute.

From Rags to Riches, by John Tebbel (Macmillan $4.95): A BIOGRAPHY and a critical assessment of one of the strangest figures in American literature: Horatio Alger Jr., whose name has come to be synonymous with a tradition of success through striving in which Alger himself didn't really believe.

Alger was a tense, usually diffident little man who was never really ragged nor really rich.

His writing is bad enough to be hysterically funny by current standards, but he was remarkably influential in his day.

The success of Alger's books over those of better writers who were working the same side of the street during his lifetime may stem in part from his skill as a reporter and the reality of the human and geographical backgrounds before which his incredible characters performed.

He made a lot of money in his lifetime, but he spent most of it on worthy but futile causes.

His one notable success in this field, a novel called "Phil, the Fiddler," helped to produce the world's first statute penalizing cruelty to children.

Pacific Parade

The Kettle Boiled Over

Don Miller

IT TOOK something comparable to a tea-kettle boiling over to crank up the stalled North County school unification program last week.

The teakettle, in this instance, was Jefferson High School Board member James Cooper whose patience in this unification business had long been wearing thin.

Thursday night in the pleasant surroundings of Westmoor High School's library, it wore out—completely.

Cooper, rather heatedly, urged that since the five North County school districts could not agree on a unification proposal, the plan that had been tentatively approved by the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization should be presented to voters so they could decide its merits.

The committee's plan to gather up all the districts into one big (and hopefully happy) family that would live in an area now comprised by the Jefferson High School District, has drawn the backing only of the high school board.

Cooper warned the committee and members of other school boards that the state isn't sitting idly by anymore, waiting for counties to come up with unification plans.

In this, he couldn't be more accurate. It's evidenced by the somewhat startling bill Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has introduced in the Legislature that would whittle the number of districts in the state WAY DOWN to a much smaller number than envisioned now under present unification proposals.

BUT LET'S get back to the boiling teakettle. After two hours of discussion that was going largely nowhere Thursday night, Cooper tartly asked that the committee call a five-minute recess.

The high school board then huddled and after the recess, Cooper, speaking in an almost exasperated voice, exhorted the other school boards and the committee to get on with it.

He then propelled the meeting into action with a motion on trustee representation for the unified district.

So anxious was he to get the stalled proceedings going again that he made the wrong motion.

After a bit of hemming and hawing on the part of Chairman Paul Bradley, who asked that if a Robert's Rules of Order could be located, Bradley ultimately ruled that Cooper's motion had been made in error and could be withdrawn.

However, by this time the unification ball was picking up momentum and Allen Bigler of the Brisbane Board quickly inserted his own motion, calling for adoption of the motion Cooper had made in error.

It was seconded and later adopted.

That action then led to the quick approval of two more parts of the unification plan proposed by the committee and the group—rather amazed by all the action after so many hours of haggling—adjourned for the evening.

The unification plan may or may not ultimately get the green light from John Q. Public—but at least, thanks to a patient man who lost his patience, it now appears headed for a voter decision.

REMEMBER the indomitable Daly City woman who just about overshadowed those lunar space probes with a 10,500-mile solo trailer trip to Boston and back?

Well, Mrs. Irene Dunaway of 20 Forest Grove, our intrepid adventurer, has embarked upon a new adventure—albeit one without wheels.

She's started to write a book about her transcontinental travels and like the pioneering she did hauling a trailer, she says she finds trying to write something that will sell even more of a challenge than the trip.

Mrs. Dunaway started out with no writing experience at all and for the first few weeks, it was a struggle. But after a while, she says, something resembling a trailer commentary began to evolve and she found she suddenly had several chapters in the works.

AT THIS POINT, our budding Mark Twain of the trailways decided to seek professional guidance and she enrolled in a creative writing course at the College of San Mateo.

That, she enthused the other day, was a rather spectacularly good decision for with the training she's getting in the course, she feels that it shouldn't be long before Dunaway will be a new name in booksellers' lists.

In fact, she's been told by her instructor that so interesting was her jaunt across country that she absolutely should be in print in some form AND on the newsstands by June.

All of which goes to show you that when you're a pioneer, whether it be in space or in front of a trailer, the most surprising developments can occur.

Like becoming a writer.

Peninsula Panorama

It's Time to Rise 'n Shine

George Whitesell

ARE THERE MORE sleepyheads on the Peninsula than elsewhere?

There are plenty of them here, both the type who freely admit it and those who deny it.

And there is still a third type of sleepyhead, the one who refuses to yield to the temptation to stay "sacked in" and literally forces himself to "rise and shine" each morning.

As nearly as this department can learn, there is no greater proportion of sleepyheads in this region than anywhere else but this is not saying a great deal because a psychologist who has been investigating human sleep habits says most humans are on the sluggish side when it comes to getting out of bed.

To put this another way, if the gentle reader is one of those hearty souls who bounds out of bed with alacrity each morning, bobs into the shower and out again with song on his lips, and enters upon the day with vim and vigor—he is a member of a minority group.

He and those of his ilk are far outnumbered by those who rise with reluctance.

Greeting the dawn of each new day with loud huzzahs is not exactly the most popular pastime of the Peninsula.

This is not to say that each new day is greeted with groans, but with a general tendency to stay under covers as long as possible.

ALMOST EVERYONE must get up sooner or later. However there is no joyous enthusiasm for it either sooner or later.

About the only segment of the population that has a large number of enthusiastic early risers is the young. This might be because "they don't know any better."

And they learn better quickly. As many mothers know, school age and a sudden determination to stay in bed as long as possible arrive almost simultaneously.

Early rising as a habit in the young persists only on Sundays and holidays when there is no school and parents would like to "sleep in."

FROM VARIOUS accounts given this department by parents, the determination to stay in bed reaches its peak about high school age.

Apparently in the teen-age stage it often becomes necessary to use drastic methods to dislodge the sleeper from his slumbers.

Some parents use such methods as jerking the covers from the sleeper, the sound of loud noises, and the actual jerking of the sleeper from his downy nest.

The dosing of water on the recalcitrant riser is effective but is not really used a great deal. It gives mother too much trouble drying out the bedclothes later on.

Ability to rise at will frequently appears to be coincidental with the first job. Tardiness, shrinking or cutting off a paycheck, confers its own lesson.

Thereafter the alarm clock or a summons to "get up" seems to be a much more potent stimulus.

The need to get to a job on time is a continuing factor that separates the men from the boys.

The responsibilities of being an adult are the real prime mover in rousing out most people. But even here a great many of them erect a familiar mental reservation—"I have to get up, but I don't have to like it."

THIS CAN BE BLAMED for much early morning grumpiness. It is why lots of folks eschew all social contact until they have had a cup of coffee, or a cigarette.

They say early rising is "for the birds" and they leave it to the birds to be cheerful about it.

This, incidentally, is okeh with the birds who often become offensive with their cheerful chirping as the dawning wends its weary way.

At all events, any Peninsula gentle readers who have trouble waking, and more trouble in getting out of bed to face another day, need not worry unduly. They have plenty of company all over the world.

Crown Roast of Pork Will Be Enjoyed by Family

A Crown Pork Roast, filled with a flavorful apple-raisin stuffing and roasted to perfection is sure to be enjoyed by the family on Easter Sunday. A zesty fruit bake, flavored with a touch of ginger, is the ideal companion to the crown roast.

Have the butcher make you a crown—the king of pork roasts. Season with salt and pepper. Place in roasting pan, bone ends up; wrap bone ends in aluminum foil to prevent excess browning. Roast, uncovered, in a slow oven (325 degrees F.), allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Allow 1 to 2 chops per serving.

An hour before roast is done fill center of crown with apple-raisin stuffing.

APPLE-RAISIN STUFFING
1 package herb-seasoned stuffing

2 cups chopped peeled apples
1 cup seedless raisins, parboiled
½ cup minced onions
¼ cup snipped parsley
Prepare stuffing according to package directions. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly to blend. Spoon stuffing into center of crown roast.

GINGER FRUIT BAKE
1 can (1 pound) cling-peach halves
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) pineapple slices
1 can (1 pound) pear halves
5 or 6 maraschino cherries
1-3 cup butter
¾ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon ginger

Drain fruits, then dry well on paper towels. (Remaining juices may be combined for a refreshing drink.) Arrange fruits in a 1½ quart casserole or an oven-proof mold.

Melt butter; add brown sugar and ginger; spoon over fruit. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for one hour. Serves 10 to 12.

Pep Up Salad In a Jiffy

American blue cheese actually is a "convenience food," since it can be taken out of the refrigerator, crumbled over your favorite salad, and served at a moment's notice.

Shelling Tip

To make shell removal easier from hard-cooked eggs, home economists suggest pouring off the hot water and immediately immersing the hard-cooked eggs in cold water. Shells then will slip off easily.

Cucumber Mousse Bit Of Spring

Add a bit of springtime to your mid-winter meals by serving a "light as air" salad to your family and guests. This molded salad is a step above the ordinary because it combines the cool flavor of cucumber with shimmering lime gelatin.

The creamy texture comes from whipped evaporated milk, and tang is added in the form of American blue cheese crumbles. The creamy texture and piquant flavor of the American blue cheese enhances the smooth gelatin and mild cucumber flavor.

CUCUMBER MOUSSE
1 cucumber, peeled and shredded
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 package lime-flavored gelatin
½ cup boiling water
1 teaspoon minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
In a bowl, beat cucumber to a pulp. Add blue cheese. Set aside. Chill a small mixing bowl and beaters. Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until ice crystals begin to form along edge. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add onion, salt, pepper and cucumber mixture. Chill until slightly jelled. Whip evaporated milk in chilled bowl until stiff. Fold gelatin mixture into whipped milk. Pour into 1-quart mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm.

Sour Cream Coffee Cake Real 'Peach'

Coffee cake is a delightful sweet that can be served in many ways, in many shapes and at many, many occasions. It is delicious for breakfast, coffee klatches, tea, or evening bridge parties.

A real "peach" of a coffee cake is this "melt in your mouth" Peach Sour Cream Coffee Cake, developed in the Meadow Golf kitchens. Its velvety smooth texture has the richness of sour cream blended into it.

The coffee cake is crowned with sliced peaches and a crumbly buttery topping. Serve this coffee cake warm.

PEACH SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE

(Serves 9)
½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts
Topping:
1 cup canned sweetened sliced peaches
1-3 cup flour
½ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter

Cream together butter and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Blend in sour cream.

Sift together 2 cups flour, baking powder, soda, and salt. Add chopped walnuts and stir into creamed mixture. Spread in greased 9-inch square pan.

TOPPING: Arrange sliced peaches on top of batter. Mix flour and brown sugar. Cut in butter until crumbly. Sprinkle over peaches.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 40 minutes. Serve warm.

Cream Sauce Tasty Dinner Dish 'Dip'

A change of pace food might be just the spur you need to perk up your meatless dishes. A cheese fondue would be a novel meal to serve to your family. They will enjoy dipping pieces of bread into the casserole.

Along the same idea as fondue is a delicious cream sauce developed by home economists. The influence of this dish is Italian.

Rich whipping cream is combined with butter and delicate seasoning of anchovies and garlic. Unusual "dunks" are raw cabbage leaves; Italian bread or sauteed mushrooms.

A SAUCE BY ANY OTHER NAME...

(Serves 4 to 6)
1 can anchovies
½ pound butter
1 clove garlic, pressed
1 pint heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter
1 pound fresh mushrooms, cleaned

1 head cabbage
1-2 loaves Italian bread
Mash anchovies. Lightly brown garlic in butter. Add anchovies. Slowly stir in cream and simmer gently, stirring often.

Meanwhile, saute mushrooms in additional butter until tender. Clean raw cabbage leaves. Slice Italian bread.

Place sauce in chafing dish or a casserole with a burner. Use mushrooms, cabbage leaves and bread as "dunks."

Spring Is Right Time for Light Luncheon, And An Herb-Basted Turkey

Spring always begs for a light luncheon — and, built around an herb-basted turkey, this luncheon is planned to please. It's light in work, delicate and light in good flavor, and it takes a light hand to use just the right amount of herbs with the turkey, to toss the salad for freshness and crispness, to mix and roll out feather-light rolls, and to assemble an unusually delicious and light dessert called Pears Jeannine.

With waistlines being given their annual homage, no better entree can be served than turkey, which claims fewer calories per serving than any other meat. And while turkey was once a laborious holiday-time treat, it now, with the new tender broad-breasted turkeys, can be put into the oven in the twinkling of an eye and roasted in a shorter time. Even the preparation of the turkey is light and easy, especially if the turkey isn't stuffed. Just rinse out the thawed bird, pat dry, rub cavity with Ac'cent and herbs to emphasize the delicate sweet flavor of the meat, slip drumsticks under tail bank, and put into the oven. Roast the turkey the day before it suits your taste and time schedule, and serve cold slices. Or slip it into the oven the morning of the luncheon (you won't have to start too early) and serve it hot.

For unbelievably light rolls use a standard butterhorn recipe, but give both the dough and the made-out rolls extra hours for rising. Allow 3 to 6 hours for the dough to rise, and again for the made-out rolls to rise, varying it according to your time schedule. The longer rising time makes the lightest rolls one can ever imagine. Since this is a meal for easy fixing, evaporated milk is used to cut mixing time for rolls.

For a handsome and tasty and light dessert, Pears Jeannine take top honors. Chilled canned Bartlett pear halves are served with a scoop of chocolate ice cream that's been rolled in a generous amount of chopped pecans (the ice cream balls are prepared ahead of time and kept in the freezer until serving time) then topped with an unusually good cinnamon sauce (hot or cold, as you like) made with rich, smooth evaporated milk. It's a lovely light ending to any meal.

HERB-BASTED TURKEY
12 to 16 pound turkey hen
Salt
½ teaspoon each of chervil, thyme, savory, rosemary
1½ teaspoons marjoram
2 tablespoons Ac'cent
½ cup (1 stick) butter
Rinse thawed turkey with cold water, drain and pat dry.

thermometer is used, insert so that bulb is in center of inside high muscle or the thickest part of breast meat. Be sure bulb does not touch bone. Roast turkey at 325 degrees Fahrenheit, brushing every 30 minutes with butter and herb mixture, especially any dry areas. When turkey is two-thirds done, cut cord or band or skin at drumsticks. Roast until done.

With the new tender turkeys now on the market there is no need to roast turkeys nearly so long as we once did. They cook much more quickly, and actually the meat is more moist and tender if not cooked to such a dry stage as many are used to doing. For best results, use a roast meat thermometer and cook the turkey to 190 degrees Fahrenheit. The following chart gives approximate cooking time, but differences in individual birds may necessitate increasing or decreasing cooking time slightly. Stuffed birds take just a little longer to roast. This chart is merely a guide to total roasting time.

Purchased Weight	Ready-to-Cook Weight	Oven Temperature	Roasting Time
4 to 8 pounds	5 to 12 pounds	325 F	2 to 2 1/2 hours
8 to 12 pounds	12 to 16 pounds	325 F	2 1/2 to 3 hours
12 to 16 pounds	16 to 20 pounds	325 F	3 to 3 1/2 hours
16 to 20 pounds	20 to 24 pounds	325 F	3 1/2 to 4 hours
20 to 24 pounds	24 to 28 pounds	325 F	4 to 4 1/2 hours

When a meal is set for a definite hour, and the turkey is to be served warm, start the bird 20 to 30 minutes ahead of schedule to avoid delay should the bird take longer to cook than was estimated from the guide. This also allows time for carving and arranging meat attractively on a platter.

Herb-basted Turkey and Pears Jeannine — Service hot or cold, herb-basted turkey is the perfect entree for the light and luscious spring lunch. And, to add a touch of excellence to the lunch, serve guests Pears Jeannine with Cinnamon Cream Syrup — a superb dessert.

RAISIN ROLY-POLYS
1 package granular dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
3/4 cup milk, scalded
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs, beaten
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 1/2 to 4 cups flour

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Combine melted butter, scalded milk, sugar, eggs, salt, yeast mixture, and mix well. Stir in just enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and allow to rise 3 to 6 hours. Turn out onto floured breadboard and knead a few times to make it easy to handle. The dough is very soft and should remain so. Divide dough into halves. Roll each half into rectangle about 1/4-inch thick. Spread with melted butter, granulated sugar, and chopped raisins. Roll as for cinnamon rolls, and cut into 16 pieces, placing outside down in buttered muffin pans. Allow to rise 3 to 6 hours. Bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Removed from oven and while hot brush with icing made by combining 2 cups powdered sugar, 2 to 4 tablespoons hot water, and 1/2 teaspoon rum extract. Makes 32 rolls.

PEARS JEANNINE
(8 Servings)
1 qt. chocolate ice cream
2 cups chopped pecans
8 canned Bartlett pear halves, chilled and drained
Shape ice cream in round balls with an ice cream scoop. Roll balls in chopped pecans; place in freezer until ready to serve.

To serve, arrange an ice cream ball in each canned Bartlett pear half and top with cinnamon syrup.
CINNAMON CREAM SYRUP
1 cup light corn syrup
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup evaporated milk
Mix corn syrup, sugar, water, and cinnamon in medium-sized saucepan. Bring to full boil over medium heat, stirring and boiling for 2 minutes longer. Cool 5 minutes. Stir in evaporated milk. Serve warm or cold. Makes 3 1/2 cups.

Some Sandwich!
For a hearty Saturday afternoon sandwich for the man in your life, try combining salami and zesty American blue cheese. Sliced tomato and lettuce complete this gourmet delight. All of this goes between two slices of fresh rye bread, of course!

Meat Loaf Tops
Sprinkle crumbled American blue cheese over meat loaf while it is baking. The blue cheese will melt and form a taste-tempting crust.

Atmosphere to Spare at The Lanai Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn

GENERAL MANAGER FRANK DENNISON has atmosphere to spare at the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn — from an outdoor Florida-type swimming pool, sounds and dances of the Islands in the Bloody Mary Cocktail Lounge, to the Little Bit snack bar which depicts race track scenes from wallpaper to two dollar mutual tickets. Many changes have been made here since the "Dennison colors" have been flying — and all for the best. . . . Ever try spaghetti with clams or shrimp? Danilo's features it — and is it ever delicious! . . . Dancing returns to the South "B" Street Turf and Paddock Club. Bandstand tonight and tomorrow night is the Ron DeMasi Trio. . . . Business is so brisk at the Oakland Holiday Inn that General Manager Ralph McEntyre is holding his current hit "Holiday in Vegas" over another week. A "Frenchy" revue, "Holiday in Paris," will open Tuesday, March 17. . . . Overheard Nick Gust ask a couple, whom he hadn't seen in some time, where they had been. "Got married and spent our honeymoon in a Volkswagen," was the reply. No comment from Nick. . . . What with prices so reasonable at Moar's Cafeteria in Hillsdale Plaza, it's hard to convince the Mrs. to prepare dinner at home. Give special attention to the Monday through Sunday menu schedule in their advertisement — and enjoy the best for less.

If you're anxious to give your visiting friends an incomparable thrill, take them to the Lanai, the Peninsula's famed Polynesian restaurant at Villa Square, adjoining Villa Chartier.

The Lanai decor was personally created by one of the South Sea Islands' most famed designers. It is so realistic that many people say that an evening at the Lanai equals a week's vacation in The Islands.

The food is regarded as the ultimate in Chinese food, East Indian curries with full "monkey pod" of condiments and, of course, American steaks, chops and other entrees for those who prefer to stay with the conventional.

Small world: Just before Virginia and Chuck Herscher left Honolulu for the local scene, they browsed around taking in the sights. One that made them do a double take was Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Murfee and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leggallet of San Mateo, who were also browsing. I haven't heard yet if Chuck sold Mr. Murfee a new Cadillac during the "What are you doing here?" conversation, but it wouldn't surprise me.

TED STEINER, Third Avenue jeweler and president of the California Retail Jewelers Association, informs me that on March 8 and March 9 a gala gem display will be held at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. Starlet Linda Mann will plane in from Los Angeles to model a stunning green outfit — with emeralds to match. Have attended a few of these bright affairs in the past and, with Mr. Steiner providing the "setting," this year's promises to be a "sparkler." . . . Attractive Vickie Farrell is the new face at the Burlingame Hyatt House piano bar — and a very talented Miss she is. Ribs for $3.75. . . . The Captain's Sea Plate at Phil Lehr's Steakery. It's a delicious dish of prawns, scallops and fish cakes with sauce New Orleans, and Zucchini Chateau. . . . The outdoor garden patio at the International Inn Restaurant is a very relaxing spot while having luncheon or an early-evening dinner. Manager Phil Rauscher calls to my attention that the "Inn" has banquet facilities to serve from 10 to 200 persons. . . . Richie Romanello of the Morocco Room has his sights set on a Lake Tahoe bar location — but the price must be right. The way prices are right now, it might take a while to find just the right site. . . . You'll dine in "royal style" when selecting the King Henry Room in the Hillsdale Inn restaurant. Entertainment by The Norsemen featuring Jan Collins.

Name Change—Algier's To Southern Restaurant

THE WORDS "THE SOUTHERN LIVES AGAIN" are ringing out loud and clear at 2620 El Camino Real in Redwood City (site of the former Algier's restaurant). Joe Bracco and Bill Doyle now present The Southern restaurant, a name which many customers know was actually founded at 19th Avenue and Junipero Serra Blvd. in 1936. Mr. Bracco, a member of the "original cast," is carrying out the same restaurant policy that has made the Southern so popular in the past. The full menu impact is being served here. Mouth-watering, corn-fed colored chicken southern fried with whipped potatoes and Dixie gravy; baked Virginia ham with candied yams, and, of course, The Southern's specialty, Chicken and Dumplings, along with red meats, soups, salads, and out-of-the-world desserts, such as the Hot Chocolate Ice Cream Sandwich and Southern Apple Dumpling, go to make The Southern's boast "The Finest Southern Cooking North of Mason-Dixon Line" a reality. The former Algier's dining room and cocktail lounge have been completely redecorated. Your inspection is also called to the Magnolia Room (ideal for banquets). Dick Maus entertains at the organ bar Wednesday through Saturday nights. Restaurant hours: Tuesday through Friday, 11:30

Lew Lehr's is one S. F. restaurant that continues to break records year after year. Each of Lew's five years of serving steaks-cut-to-your-size has been bigger than the preceding year.

New Bus Schedule To Barney's

Good news for Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada fun seekers. Starting Monday evening, March 16, at 8 p.m. Greyhound Bus service to Barney's Casino will be available seven nights a week.

Full cash refund on arrival Sunday through Thursday; three dollar refund on Friday and Saturday. Join the Monday night "Barbers Special." Be sure to circle the calendar for Sunday, March 15—Barney's Casino will have its pre-St. Patrick's Day party. Hats, horns, and all the trimmings that go to make the "Irish New Year's" a fun occasion, await your Tahoe visit. Owner Barney O'Malia will have a surprise cash drawing at 12 midnight — and the "Winning o' the Green" will go to the lucky customer.

The d'ed cactus Lenten special at Pancho's colorful Mexican restaurant at Five Points in Redwood City is going over so well that this award-winning little spot may keep it on the menu the year 'round. It's tender, diced and absolutely needless.

No less than 10 busloads of out-of-town tourists saw "Finocchio's" new musical revue in San Francisco on a recent night. This was a record, since each bus seated 42 persons. Which means this was a party of 420 strong. Thus, Joe Finocchio goes on his merry way as operator of a famous night club which just about equals San Francisco's Cable Cars and Chinatown as tourists' attractions.

Sinaloa Chef Pasqual Hernandez was a Wednesday noon-day guest chef at the San Francisco White House, where he demonstrated the art of preparing Mexican food, as served at Luz Garcia's Powell Street cantina. One chef was selected each day — Monday, March 2, through Saturday, March 7, from leading San Francisco restaurants.

Have sampled many pizza discs in my day, but the dough prepared at Enrico Romano's Italian restaurant and pizza spa in Pacifica rates at the top of the rave list.

Bing Crosby Stops-By

Bing Crosby has "found" Vince's Seafood and Italian restaurant. He and his lovely Mrs., along with the Crosby off-spring, enjoyed their seafood dinner as much as the many dining room guests enjoyed their presence.

Oh, yes, Vince Licata is back from his recent tour of Nevada (Reno, Lake Tahoe, and Las Vegas). That extra bulge around his waist is not added weight — it's just an increase in the size of his money belt.

STYLED TO GO ANYWHERE . . . PLAY ANYWHERE with True Concert Hall Sound!

These Saucy Flounder Roll-Ups are a flavorful addition to the menu when prepared with canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup. Cooked tomatoes, celery, mushrooms, and oregano are combined with bread cubes and a bit of the soup for the stuffing. The remaining soup sauces the final dish. Celebrate St. Patrick's Day with these, accompanied by a bowl of succotash and a dessert of lime meringue pie.

Saucy Recipe For Flounder

This month of March has considerable claim to fame. It always bears the first day of spring and St. Patrick's Day. This year, too, it falls heir to Easter.

The homemaker often finds herself with these honors as a four-fold challenge. With a tighter food budget in mind, she plans her family's meatless meals with (she hopes) an extra dish to pep up pre-spring spirits. With canned condensed soups, all this can be accomplished with delicious ease.

What could be a more flavorful sauce for flounder roll-ups than canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup? Already seasoned just right and blended to a creamy smoothness, it not only sauces the fish but lends a special touch to the stuffing mixture, too. The stuffing combines bread cubes, cooked tomatoes for color and zest, chopped celery for crunch, and mushrooms, oregano, and garlic for additional flavor. Here's an inexpensive meal well worthy of your finest company. Give it a St. Patty's air with a bowl of succotash, and a lime meringue pie for dessert.

SAUCY FLOUNDER ROLL-UPS

1 can (11 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
½ cup chopped cooked tomatoes
¼ teaspoon oregano, crushed
¼ cup finely chopped celery
1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 medium clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups dry bread cubes
6 flounder fillets (about 1½ pounds)
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Combine soup, tomatoes, and oregano. In saucepan, cook celery, mushrooms, and garlic in butter until celery is tender; add ¼ cup soup mixture and bread cubes. Stuff fillets with bread mixture; fasten with toothpicks. Place in shallow baking dish (12x8x2 inches). To remaining soup, add onion and parsley; pour over fish. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Versatile Sandwich Scores Hit

Sandwiches are always good, whether as a lunch for the children, in-between nibblers, or for Sunday night suppers.

Sandwiches take all shapes, from big Hero type sandwiches, which the teen-agers love, to dainty finger sandwiches for the most elegant luncheon.

Here is a sandwich recipe for the conventional size sandwich. However, it would also be delicious as a Hero type, or even cut into dainty shapes.

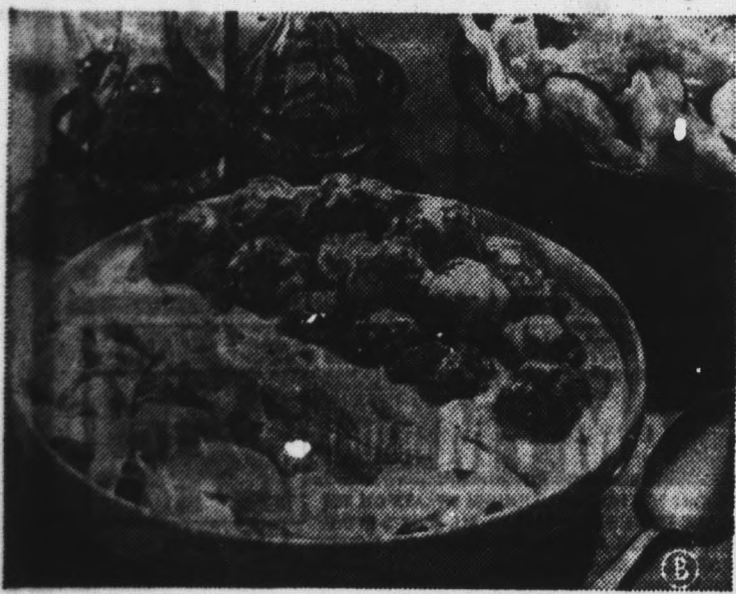

Bacon-Blue Sandwiches are easy to make. Cream cheese is blended with mellow American blue cheese and topped with crisp bacon.

American blue cheese is the secret ingredient that puts this sandwich far above the realm of the conventional sandwich. It's an economical ingredient, too, because a little bit tastes like a lot.

BACON-BLUE SANDWICHES (Serves 4)

8 slices toast
1½ tablespoons butter
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1½ ozs.)
8 slices crisp bacon
Spread toast with butter. Mix softened cream cheese and American blue cheese together. Spread cheese mixture on 4 slices of buttered toast. Criss-cross cheese mixture with bacon strips. Top with remaining toast and slice into desired shapes.

Canned Gravy Has Versatility

A wonderful new product has been discovered... an entirely new concept in creative cooking. The exciting new canned gravy/sauces are making headlines everywhere!

Versatility is the key... as a gravy over meats and potatoes, as a sauce for vegetables, or as a cooking ingredient in your favorite casseroles and skillet dishes. There are four marvelous gravy/sauces... creamed mushroom, golden onion, tomato and beef, and creamed vegetable. Each has a distinctive flavor and sophistication of its own.

The most intriguing dishes can be prepared with magical ease. There's absolutely no fuss or fixing, adventurous cooking starts by opening the can. For instance, this meatball and mushroom stroganoff hits the peak in flavor appeal. Creamed mushroom gravy/sauce... with big slices of mushrooms, smooth, rich cream, and a touch of mellow wine... blends with dairy sour cream for a truly exciting combination. Served with noodles, it makes elegant guest or family fare.

Gourmet Meatball Stroganoff

1 pound ground beef
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup minced onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
Generous dash pepper
1 tablespoon shortening
1 can (10½ ounces) creamed mushroom gravy/sauce
¼ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons water

Cooked noodles, if desired
Combine beef, crumbs, onion, egg, parsley, salt, and pepper; mix thoroughly. Shape into 16 meatballs. Brown in shortening in skillet. Pour off fat. Blend in gravy/sauce, sour cream, and water. Cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Stir now and then. Serve with noodles. Makes 4 servings.

SAUCY PORTIONS—Crusty, pre-battered and breaded fish portions are quickly baked in a hot oven. Sauce is tangy and tasty.

Budget-Minded Entree for Lent

Two convenience products from the American fishing industry spark this easy-to-do recipe fresh from the Test Kitchens of the U. S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Crusty, pre-battered and breaded fish portions are quickly baked in a hot oven, topped with colorful asparagus spears, and generously covered with a rich shrimp-cheese sauce.

The sauce base is a can of frozen cream-of-shrimp soup, with grated cheese, and a hint of horseradish added to perk up taste buds with a pungent, palate-pleasing aroma.

This elegant entree is sure to please a budget-minded homemaker; satisfy hearty eaters; and excite exasperated epicureans. Here is a real Heirloom Seafood Recipe to Treasure.

SAUCY PORTIONS

6 frozen raw breaded fish portions (2½ or 3 ounces each)

2 tablespoons melted fat or oil

Paprika

1 can (14½ ounces) green asparagus spears

1 can (10 ounces) frozen cream of shrimp soup

1-3 cup milk

¼ cup grated sharp cheese

1 tablespoon horseradish

Paprika

Place frozen portions on a well-greased cookie sheet, 15x12 inches. Drizzle fat over fish. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in an extremely hot oven.

500 degree Fahrenheit for 15 to 20 minutes or until fish is brown and flakes easily when tested with a fork. Heat asparagus; drain. Combine soup and milk and heat until soup is thawed, stirring occasionally. Add cheese and horseradish and blend thoroughly. Arrange asparagus on portions. Pour sauce over asparagus and sprinkle with paprika. Serves 6.

Corn Bread With Fish Good Treat

A good companion for fish is corn. Many people like to dip their fish filets in corn meal instead of flour before frying. Creamed corn, corn fritters and corn-on-the-cob are also delightful accompaniments for just about any type of fish.

Corn bread, or Johnny Cake, is yet another delicious treat to help round out a fish dinner. Here is a recipe for an even more flavorful corn bread.

The flavor accent of this simple batter bread is American blue cheese. The mellow blue-marbled cheese is mixed with golden toasted sesame seeds; then sprinkled on top of the unbaked batter to form a nut-like cheese topping. It is a perfect accompaniment to a family meal or party menu.

Lasagna With Our 'Styling'

American lasagna is a hearty version of the favored Italian variety. The American entree combines macaroni, ground beef, and cottage cheese with the Italian flavoring of oregano and garlic.

American blue cheese, a mellow blue-marbled cheese, tops our type with zesty flavor. The American blue cheese is crumbled on top of the casserole just before the end of baking time and forms a mellow topping for the hearty dish.

American lasagna (6-8 servings)

1 8-ounce package macaroni

¼ cup butter

½ cup chopped onion

1 clove garlic, pressed

1 pound ground beef

½ teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon sugar

¾ teaspoon oregano

½ teaspoon basil

¼ cup chopped parsley

Dash of pepper

3½ cups canned tomatoes

1 6-ounce can tomato paste

2 cups cottage cheese

½-pound sharp cheese, grated

½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 oz.)

Cook macaroni until tender, according to package directions. Rinse and drain. In butter, sauté onion and garlic until transparent. Add beef and cook until lightly brown. Add seasonings, parsley, tomatoes and tomato paste. Simmer slowly for about 1½ to 2 hours. Stir occasionally. Correct seasoning. Combine cottage cheese and macaroni.

SESAME CHEESE CORN BREAD (Yield: 9 squares)

3 tablespoons sesame seeds

2 cups self-rising corn meal

½ cup sifted self-rising flour

2 tablespoons sugar

1 egg, slightly beaten

¼ cup melted shortening or oil

1 to 1½ cups milk

¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1½ oz.)

Toast sesame seeds under broiler about one minute until deep brown. Combine corn meal, flour, and sugar. Blend egg, melted shortening or oil, and 1 cup milk. Add to dry ingredients and mix lightly until moistened. Add additional milk if needed to make better batter. Pour batter into greased 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle crumbled blue cheese and toasted sesame seeds over batter. Bake in 425-degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot.

Hot Chocolate Tricks 'n' Treats

Hot chocolate and marshmallows are long-standing flavor-mates. For an extra-rich marshmallow flavor, whip marshmallow cream with the hot chocolate milk, and then float a whole marshmallow in each mug. Or, if you want a deep, dark chocolate drink, melt in semi-sweet chocolate pieces.

For an orangey taste, use a few drops of orange extract. Garnish this one with candied orange peel. Rum extract will give you hot chocolate with a bracing flavor, delicately suited to the winter sports spirit.

Milk Cartons Have Many Uses

Don't throw away all of those wax or plastic milk cartons. Cut off the tops and use them for planters, storing fats, soap or detergents from broken boxes, or for freezer cartons. The gable top cartons are especially handy for watering plants. The plastic cartons also can be used as paint containers for touch-up jobs.
